Sewers—repair or replace?

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
A decision as to whether Granite City must finance extensive repairs to broken sewers in the Nameoki area—or find a way to replace all or a major part of the existing sanitary sewer system—will confront city officials upon completion of a sewer study now under way. City Council members were told in a special meeting Tuesday night.

Dr. Robert Koepke, geology professor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville who is directing the sewer survey and a study of the water tables as they affect sewer construction, told the council that ground water data and statistics have been accumulated during the past several months.

The survey is now moving into its second and final phase that will be directed by the Sverdrup & Parcel and Associates, St. Louis engineering firm, he said.

Results of the survey, when completed, hopefully will guide the city in determining what it must do to correct recurring sewer breaks in the Nameoki area where the existing sanitary lines originally were located as deep as 16 feet and in many places are now well below the groundwater level.

Sewer breaks below the existing water table—which now ranges from six to nine feet below ground level, depending

Suit may bar Parkview Estates drainage

Two bids for construction of a swill-type drainage system for Parkview Estates in Nameoki Township were opened by the town board of auditors Monday night and are to be studied at a special meeting of the board and the project's engineers at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the town hall.

The future of the project remains in question, however, as a suit still pending in Madison County Circuit Court may keep the township from moving any water in that area toward the east, the direction in which the flow is planned.

The suit was filed Aug. 14 on behalf of several owners of land east of the tracks who contended drainage improvements in the area would cause their farmland to flood. They requested and received a temporary restraining order barring the Alton & Southern Railroad from enlarging culverts under its tracks east of Parkview Estates.

The planned Parkview Estates drainage system would carry ground water east from the intersection of Stratford and Snowbird lanes east to the tracks. The water will go through the culverts under the tracks and across the farmland, according to plans.

The township contends the farmland is a natural watershed and state law forbids anyone from blocking natural watersheds. The residents who filed for the restraining order contend the property is not a natural watershed and additional drainage would cause them financial harm by covering farm land. Although the temporary restraining order stops the enlarging of the culverts, any drainage improvement which would cause more water to flow onto the farmland may be considered a violation of the intent of the injunction.

Maurice Dailey, attorney for the landowners, Tuesday requested the court clerk's office to set a date as soon as possible for a hearing on a request to have the temporary restraining order made permanent. If a permanent injunction is issued, a drainage system from Parkview Estates could cause a buildup of water along the west side of the railroad tracks which would have nowhere to go.

Venice adopts use tax

An ordinance establishing a one per cent use tax on certain tangible property purchased by Venice residents outside Illinois was enacted by the Venice City Council Tuesday night.

Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt said the tax applies to property that must be titled and registered by the state of Illinois, such as cars, motorcycles and boats. It was explained by the mayor that the one per cent tax is in addition to the regular four per cent use tax charged by Illinois against such purchases made outside the state. The present four per cent tax goes to the state.

Under the new ordinance, a Venice resident who buys items requiring registration from sellers outside of Illinois will be required to pay the additional tax to the Illinois secretary of state's office when he applies for a title, registration and license.

The secretary of state will return the Venice share to the city. Harry E. Hartman, city attorney, said the new tax is permitted under Illinois statutes and that adoption of the ordinance was recommended by the Illinois Municipal League.

No estimate of how much revenue will come from the city use tax was made, but it is "not expected to be substantial," officials said. The tax ordinance will become effective next month.

At the board's last meeting Oct. 26, the auditors requested John Cohen of Cohen Associates, architects, to prepare preliminary sketches of an expansion program costing about half of the cost of the original plan.

Cohen attended Monday night's meeting and presented his architect's plans and a model of a new proposal, which he believes could be constructed

New Nameoki town hall expansion plan

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors Monday night voted to seek bids on a modified plan for expanding and remodeling the town hall at 4250 Highway 162. In September, the board rejected a $63,400 bid for remodeling and expanding the building as the auditors said they felt the federal revenue sharing funds, which were to be used to finance construction, could better be used for drainage and health programs.

At the board's last meeting Oct. 26, the auditors requested John Cohen of Cohen Associates, architects, to prepare preliminary sketches of an expansion program costing about half of the cost of the original plan.

Cohen attended Monday night's meeting and presented his architect's plans and a model of a new proposal, which he believes could be constructed

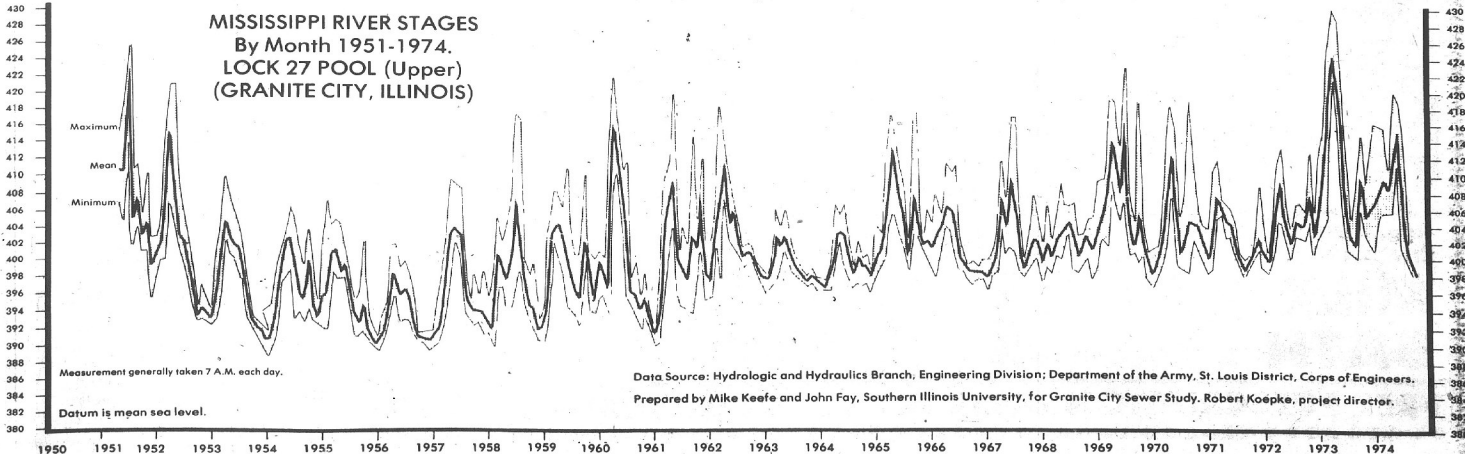

Dr. Koepke told the council that the survey of technical data has been a "team effort" that has included help from the Illinois Water Survey, the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

It has produced data that will permit determination of a pattern in the rise of the water table in this area in recent

Freedom to gather news is stressed

"Freedom of the press doesn't just mean freedom to publish. The freedom to publish is useless without the freedom to gather news."

Commenting on the death of Elijah Parish Lovejoy on Nov. 7, 1837, Paul Branzburg, a reporter for the Detroit Free Press, presented the Elijah Parish Lovejoy Lecture in Journalism for 1974. Sponsored by the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale School of Journalism, the Lovejoy Lecture honors the first martyr of a free press in America, killed by an anti-abolition mob in Alton.

Branzburg has gained national prominence through his refusal to testify before two grand juries concerning the source of confidential information used in stories dealing with drug usage in Kentucky, written while on the staff of the Louisville Courier-Journal.

In a 5-4 landmark decision in 1972, the Supreme Court denied Branzburg's assertion of absolute privilege in reporting for newsmen, and said that the First Amendment does not provide "a testimonial privilege (for newsmen) that other citizens do not enjoy."

Speaking to 200 journalism and law students, Branzburg called the subpoenaing of newsmen to testify before grand juries "a ghastly spectacle."

Arguing that newsmen are the eyes and ears of the public, Branzburg said that the reporter must be free to report the news or the public will be uninformed.

"What is more important—turning in two guys who made five pounds of hashish, or the public's right to know about drug activities?" he asked. Branzburg referred to one of the stories he wrote, for which he was subpoenaed, in which he watched two persons manufacture five pounds of hashish.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

He stressed that reporters are not an arm of law enforcement. "My stories may alert the police that there is criminal activity," he said, "but it is their job to find it."

Asserting that confidential sources will give information only if they know they will be protected by the reporter, Branzburg said an absolute privilege law for newsmen is necessary to guarantee the public's right to know.

"The press is special," he said. "The founding fathers singled out only one private business for special protection under the Constitution, and that was the press."

This was done, according to Branzburg, because under the Constitution, the people govern, "and the people can't govern without information."

Twice nominated for the Pulitzer Prize in Journalism, Branzburg is a graduate of the Harvard Law School and Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism.

The president of a university traditionally tries to treat all students equally, but a group that sometimes gets special attention from Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is the foreign contingent on campus.

Growing in number, foreign student enrollment at SIUE exceeds 200 this fall. President Rendleman admits he has special concerns for these students who are thousands of miles from home, facing language and cultural barriers.

Thus, it was not unusual during a recent reception and international talent show in the University's Goshen Lounge, to find the president visiting . . . listening . . . enjoying the talent of students who have come from more than 30 countries for an education at SIUE.

Loot from Tempel's burglary yesterday may exceed $12,000

A large quantity of liquor, band equipment worth about $10,000 and about $1,000 in cash were stolen from Tempel's Restaurant and Lounge, 1335 Johnson Road, it was reported at 6:40 a.m. Wednesday. Officials believe someone hid inside the building when it was closed and locked about 1:30 a.m. Wednesday. The cash and an undetermined number of cases of liquor were taken from closets with double-lock doors on them. The doors were taken off their hinges to gain access. About 150 quarts of liquor were found in trash containers near the rear of the store. The rear door light was broken, apparently by the burglars, officials noted. Band equipment taken include a Hammond organ, an electric piano, amplifiers and other electronic and musical equipment.

All that glitters may not be real gold, state warns

By WILLIAM J. SCOTT
Illinois Attorney General
As of Jan. 2, 1975, it will be legal for U.S. citizens to purchase gold.

In these inflation-ridden times, when just the cost of food hurts our pocketbooks, you may laugh at the news that you can buy gold. But beware; you're just the type of person the con artist gold salesman is waiting for.

He'll tell you that owning gold is a hedge against inflation; that the price per ounce is bound to go up, and that gold won't "devalue" like the dollar. All that is true... provided that what you buy is real gold. And herein lies the problem... and the warning.

Gold is sold in two ways. One—gold futures—is the safest way to buy. Gold futures are contracts in which the seller agrees to deliver to the buyer a specified amount of gold at a specified price at an agreed upon date and place in the future.

In reality, few of these gold contracts ever are actually delivered. They are used primarily for speculative purposes. The gold futures market in Chicago will be handled exclusively by the International Monetary Market of the Mercantile Exchange.

The minimum amount of gold with which the IMM will deal will be 100 ounces.

At today's price—about $165 per ounce—that's equivalent to $16,500, or a minimum cash outlay of $1,300 per 100-ounce futures contract.

Gold futures can be sold only by agents registered with the U.S. government at officially recognized markets. Futures cannot legally be sold elsewhere. Remember that you cannot buy "paper gold" on your doorstep.

And any salesman who tries to sell you that is a fake. However, the sale of gold bullion is another matter. Bullion sales are "spot sales"—that is, gold on sale for cash.

Since bullion salesmen need not be registered with the government, it will be much more difficult to identify the fraudulent dealer. Remember, gold now costs about $165 per ounce. So if someone shows up on your doorstep with a one-to-five-pound gold bar and offers to sell it to you $500, beware!

You're on your way to becoming a victim of fraud if this happens. A one-pound bar of gold would cost about $2,640. A five-pound bar of gold would cost about $13,200.

Which leaves us with the salesman who gives the consumer credit for some brains. He shows up on your doorstep with a gold chunk or a bag of gold dust equal to one ounce of gold. He asks for $165.

If he's reputable, and if the gold is real, and if $165 per ounce is the day's going rate for gold—that's three "ifs"—then you're likely safe. But the second "if" is the problem.

Would you know real gold or real gold dust if you saw it? Ask yourself that before you buy. If the answer is "no," then "ifs" number one and three become paramount: Is the dealer reputable? And what is the going rate for gold the day you buy?

There will be reputable locations at which to purchase gold bullion. Banks likely will be among them; so will dealers you personally trust and with whom you have dealt satisfactorily before.

But unless you are very sure of the reliability of the gold salesman, it would be best to purchase gold bullion from a bank.

Keep in mind at all times, however, that gold is expensive. Beware of anyone who tries to sell you gold at a "bargain."

There is no such thing. The price of gold is set each day. And right now, it's about $165 per ounce.

GC South grid Warriors showed discipline, skill during injury-troubled season

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer

High school football, like any other varsity sport, should emphasize team and individual discipline, character, sportsmanship and how to combine individual talents with that of others — not to a great degree on winning.

Granite City High School South's 1974 football season ended just as it began, without a victory.

But from the start, the Warriors combined their experienced talent with inexperienced prospects and continued to pound away at their opponents in a "never say quit" fashion—revealing to area fans the high quality of discipline, character and sportsmanship that first-year Coach Stan Wojcik has helped instill in the young athletes.

Coach Wojcik started the season with seven senior and two junior lettermen who were complemented by three seniors, 27 juniors and one sophomore, all of the latter 31 inexperienced in varsity football.

Prior to South's opening game of the season, the team lost much of its player depth when 11 juniors decided at various times to "retire" themselves from the roster due to other interests. This resulted in many players having to fill key positions on both offense and defense.

The Warrior effort was hampered almost from the start as a result of injuries to key players — seniors Tom Mushill, Greg Terrell and Paul Mushill.

But the team adjusted well and allowed only one shutout against it. And the Warriors nearly pulled a win out of the bag four times while losing to GC/HS North 7-0, Cahokia 12-7, Edwardsville 14-12 and Alton 14-13.

With first-year Quarterback Kirk Champion, a 5-7, 160-pound senior, calling the signals, the Warriors jelled to provide one of the finest passing games in the region.

Champion connected on 61 of his 139 attempts to move the team 679 yards, compared to the opponents' 49 of 107 and 775 yards in the air.

Schooley, a 6-3, 175-pound two-year letterman, was on the receiving end of 22 Champion aerials to gain 290 yards and three touchdowns.

Ray Smith, a 5-9, 170-pound letterman, pulled in 15 passes for 176 yards and three touchdowns.

Mike Lansaw, a 5-8, 190-pound letterman, caught 10 aerials for 136 yards and one touchdown. And Frank Barunika caught seven for 33 yards and a touchdown.

Even with injuries offsetting the Warrior ground attack, Mushill, a 5-8, 170-pound letterman, headed the effort with 350 yards on 81 carries, an average gain of well over four yards.

Barunika, a 5-7, 165-pound junior, gained 288 yards on 112 carries; Schooley 121 yards on 22 carries for two touchdowns and an average of over five yards; and Champion scrambled for 21 yards.

South's offensive unit lost only nine fumbles in the same number of games while the Warriors recovered 17 enemy miscues.

Opposing teams were penalized 55 times for a total of 489 yards and South lost 49 yards on 47 penalties.

Defensively, GC/HS South had seven different players

granite city press-record

grounding opposing runners in double figures: Doug Hartman, a 5-8, 170-pound junior, tackled 66; Mark Greenwood, a 5-7, 150-pound junior, 48; Keith Moran, a 5-8, 170-pound junior, 44; Bryan Wilson, a 5-11, 165-pound senior, 39; Terrell 31 tackles; Smith 24, and Craig Brawley, a 6-0, 220-pound senior, 25 tackles.

With 16 experienced juniors from this year's squad returning as seniors for the 1975 season—and with either Bryan Bunjan, 5-10, 150-pound junior, or Keith Champion, 5-7, 153-pound sophomore, filling the quarterback position—the GC/HS South Warriors next year should do well.

They hope to equal or surpass the best any opposing schools will have to offer.

WARRIOR STRIKING POWER was provided this football season by seniors Paul Mushill (left) and Tom Schooley. Mushill, 5-8, 170 pounds, led GC/HS South's rushing attack with 350 yards on 81 carries. Schooley, 6-3, 175 pounds, was the team's main pass receiver with 22 receptions for a total of 290 yards.

Talented gridiron Trojans look forward to Cahokia Conference play next year

Madison High School griders are looking forward to the 1975 football season when they become a part of the Cahokia Football Conference, fresh from posting this season one of their best records in three years.

The new conference is to include Madison, Columbia, Dupu, Freeburg and Westville High of Trenton.

The Trojans were long overdue for a victory after not having won a game since 1972 — and 1973 was the season Madison rose to the occasion.

After dropping five consecutive games to Wentzville 33-

12, Alton Marquette 32-6, St. Louis Central 35-6, Columbia 18-6 and Quincy Catholic 36-6, Madison romped over Dupu 24-14.

The following action saw the Trojans lose 34-8 to Assumption of East St. Louis and then 21-0 to Bressau Water Dei before Madison upset previously undefeated Sparta, 38-20. The latter eleven was of state tournament caliber.

The final game of the season saw Madison play host to Pacific, Mo., which needed one last victory to earn enough points to qualify for the Missouri state football playoffs.

The visiting Indians came on strong to win 39-20. But for Trojan Joe Young, a 5-4, 155-pound senior, the contest was an immense achievement. The game brought a climactic end to the high school gridiron career of the small but powerful athlete.

Young had 722 yards going into the game and needed 278 rushing to equal 1,000 yards for the 1974 season.

"I pulled him out of action with three minutes remaining in the game," recalls Coach Al Vander Haar.

"Someone gave me a message that Young needed only nine more yards to reach his mark, so back he went. Young wound up gaining 278 yards to earn a total of 1,015 for the year.

He also provided the Madison team with the offensive striking power it needed, with eight touchdowns on 149 rushing carries — four TDs were earned in the Sparta contest. And Young pulled in six passes to gain 69 yards and one touchdown.

Defensively, Young grounded 88 enemy runners to lead his teammates in tackles.

Leroy Booker had 67 tackles, Darryl Franklin 64, Dalred Hayes 60 and Mike Stanley 54.

Other than Young, Madison's only other aerial touchdown was earned by Franklin, who was on the receiving end of 10 passes for 144 yards.

Kevin Warner, sidelined for the remainder of the season in the Quincy game, led in the pass reception department with 18 for 269 yards.

Quarterback Emmett Timmons also was sidelined near mid-season and finished the year with 18 completions out of 32 passing attempts for 302 yards.

Mike Woods, replacing Timmons, completed 17 of 32 passes for 270 yards.

Scoring also for Madison were Mike Stanley, three touchdowns, and Dwight Chittars, Pete Fearck and Woods, one apiece.

As a team, Madison totaled 1,900 yards rushing to its opponents' 2,000; 638 yards in the air to opponents' 748; and 400 rushing yards to foes' 534.

The Trojans fumbled 38 times to opponents' 25; were penalized 95 times for a loss of 775 yards to foes' 72 for 575 yards; and returned enemy punts 1,154 yards to opponents' 987 yards.

TROJAN CAGERS who will start Madison High School's 1974-75 basketball season against GC/HS South Nov. 26 are these five seniors: left to right, Mike Walker, a 6-2, 160-pound forward; Leroy Booker, 6-1, 183, center-forward; Emmett Timmons, 5-8, 140, center;

Madison five inexperienced — but could be formidable

Madison High School's basketball team has taken shape and Coach Larry Graham feels "the Trojan squad should be tough again this season."

Graham, in his sixth year as coach, led the team to a 16-11 record his first year (1969-70) and the quintet had records of 15-10, 8-15, 14-11 and 17-8 in successive seasons.

The "Green Wave" sports a revamped schedule this year and also a revised lineup on the court.

Central of St. Louis and Neoga, Ill., have been dropped from the schedule and replaced with Cahokia, Cleveland, Riverview Gardens and Mount Zion.

Madison will open its 1974-75 season on Tuesday, Nov. 26, against GC/HS South at the South gymnasium and then will participate in the four-school Collinsville tournament Nov. 29-30.

The Trojans have lost through graduation all five players who started in the regional finals last year, and there are only three returning lettermen on the squad — Rudolph Bradley, Mike Walker and Darryl Franklin.

Bradley, a 6-1, 150-pound senior guard, scored 208 points in 14 games last season before he was sidelined by a scholastic matter.

Graham expects the two-year letterman to help lead the Trojan scoring effort and be one of the squad's most active rebounders. He feels that "This may be the best group of players I've ever been associated with."

"They are extremely well behaved, and really pull together."

Slated for action also are juniors Ron Jones at 6-1, Joe Gullash at 5-10, Edwin Garrett at 6-0, Curtis Bradley at 6-0, Evan Dandridge at 6-4, Mike Stanley at 6-0 and Rodney Davis at 6-1; and sophomore Ron Williams at 5-11.

Graham views the Trojan schedule as a tough one—especially Collinsville, East St. Louis, Edwardsville, Venice and GC/HS North and South.

State champion Dutchmen seek Midwest soccer title

The Belleville Area College Dutchman soccer club, in its first year of competition, was honored Monday as the Illinois junior college soccer champions at the College of DuPage in Chicago, after defeating DuPage 4-2 on penalty kicks for the title.

The Dutchmen will carry their 7-4-2 record back to DuPage tomorrow for a Midwest regional tournament. At 11 a.m. tomorrow, the first game will be between the Wisconsin and Michigan state champions; at 1 p.m., BAC and the Ohio state title team, Lakeland College of Cleveland, will meet.

Winners of both games will clash at 1 p.m. Saturday for the Midwest title. The victor earns the right to compete for the national championship Monday at Baltimore, Md.

Four members of the BAC squad, all former Granite City soccer standouts, were named by coaches of participating teams to the first all-state team — Bobby Galvan of GCHS South and John Harding, Dennis Jones and Larry Petri, all of GCHS North.

DuPage placed four players on the all-state team, Tritan College three and Lincoln, one. "Everyone knocks the penalty kick system of deciding a victor," remarks BAC mentor Mike Moore, "but this is the second contest we have won on kicks."

scored in the opening minutes of the second half to break a scoreless tie.

The Dutchmen tied the contest with a goal midway through the half. Rudy Equibahl powered a corner kick toward the mouth of the goal, where Dennis Jones' headshot attempt deflected off a defender.

Assumption's Bill Kiefer took the rebound and pushed the ball into the left corner of the net. Late in regulation play, Antonio Palencia broke the tie with a goal for DuPage before Jones took a pass from Cahokia's Jim Sirtak and forced an overtime situation with a straight-in kick from 12 yards away.

Neither team scored in any of the four five-minute overtime periods but BAC goalie Petri was credited with making two diving saves to prevent a DuPage victory.

"Our fans and players went wild," added Moore, "after we made good four free kicks to their two."

Jones, Galvan, Harding and Equibahl each booted the ball past the defending goalie while DuPage kickers scored on the first attempt, missed two in a row, and then made good a fourth kick.

Shots on goal were: BAC 26, DuPage 22. Each team took nine corner kicks, and Petri and the losing goalkeeper, Curt Geary, each had 10 saves.

Park sports award banquet on Monday

The Granite City Park District's 15th annual sports award banquet will be held Monday, Nov. 18, at the Granite City High School South cafeteria starting at 6:15 p.m. About 600 are expected to attend.

The event, with Henry Gabriel, Park Board president, serving as master of ceremonies, will honor participants in the district's comprehensive sports programs. Service and appreciation awards will be presented to an individual or individuals who have contributed time and effort in supporting youth programs in this community.

A total of 170 awards will be presented at the banquet; 76 trophies will be given out for softball, 24 in baseball, 34 in tennis, 20 in basketball and five in flag football, plus five appreciation awards and two service awards.

Ron Jacober of KSD-TV and radio will be the main speaker. In addition to handling many of the regularly scheduled sports reports on the radio and television stations, Jacober has called the play-by-play of St. Louis University basketball, Missouri University football and the Missouri State High School Class "L" basketball championships.

He also has broadcast professional football and produces and hosts a pre-game show on television before Cardinal baseball telecasts. Each year he writes, produces and co-hosts with KSD Sports Director Jay Randolph a year-end review of sports highlights in the St. Louis area.

A native of Highland, Ill., Jacober is a graduate of St. Paul's High School there, and has a journalism degree from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

While at SIUC, he aired the St. Louis Cardinals' football and basketball games for a small network of stations in that area.

During graduate studies there, he worked as staff announcer at WJPE in Herrin. After a period of active duty with the Army Reserve at Fort Gordon, Ga., he came to St. Louis to join the public affairs department of the Automobile Club of Missouri.

In six years with the club, he moved from a field representative to assistant to the president.

He then joined KMOX radio, St. Louis, handling a number of news and sports assignments, including Cardinal football games. He moved to KSD in February 1969.

Jacober believes that "too many people take sports too seriously" and he has made a hit in public appearances with his often humorous approach to sports.

National sports personalities will be on hand at the banquet, headed by Joe Hoerner, pitcher of the Kansas City Royals. Hoerner has played with the St. Louis Cardinals and the Atlanta Braves.

Rick Wise of the Boston Red Sox will attend. He came to the baseball Cardinals from Philadelphia in the Steve Carlton trade and then was traded to the Red Sox in the Reggie Smith and Ken Tatum deal.

Greg Hartle will represent the St. Louis football Cardinals here. He is a linebacker who was a four-year starter at South Carolina College, gaining NAIA all-America honors as a senior.

Ron Hunt, infielder of the St. Louis baseball Cardinals, will represent his team. He is a former New York Met who came to the Cardinals from Montreal.

Persons wishing to attend the banquet may pick up tickets at the Wilson Park office. The cost is $2.75 per person and there will be 100 tickets available to the public, Park Supt. Harold Brown said.

A few reservations still are available by calling Vance Weiss, Bubblemasters president, at 877-3912, organizers said.

Soccer Warriors first league champions, tied state champs

The soccer Warriors of Granite City High School South did not reach the Illinois High School Association state finals this season for the first time in three years.

But their 17-3 record was highlighted by many individual and team achievements that provided as exciting a season as area fans had ever hoped to witness.

Ironically, 1974 state champion New Trier West played South to a 1-1 tie for the Warriors only undecided game in the regular season.

And West was the school that South defeated in 1972 for the state title.

Goalies Keith Kibort and Marc Mason, both seniors, provided South with 10 shutouts during the season.

Senior Charles Bennington set a new school record of 32 goals earned by an individual in one season.

The previous mark of 26 goals was recorded last year by since graduated Don Goldschmidt, now a St. Louis University soccer Billiken with two goals to his credit.

Adding to the Warrior scoring effort were Teno Valencia with 18, Dave Sheridan 13, Rick Becherer six, Dave Goldschmidt three goals and Ron Goldschmidt and David Baumann, two each.

Single goals were scored by Randy Mendoza, Mark Spiroff, John Schwarzkopf, Mark Brusatti, Wally Winters and Mike Austin.

South earned the honor of capturing the first ever Southwestern Conference soccer crown with a perfect 6-0 record, a feat earned by defeating runner-up Collinsville 1-0 on a goal scored by Bennington.

The Warriors topped Peoria Central 1-0 and Assumption 9-0 to take top honors in a Jacksonville tournament.

And GCHS South also defeated some of the top-ranked schools in the state—Alton 9-0 and 3-1, Chicago's St. Ignace 10-1, St. Paul of Highland 3-1 and 6-0, St. John's of Missouri 2-0, Assumption of East St. Louis 2-0, Cahokia 4-0, 6-1 and 3-1, Collinsville 2-0, Jacksonville 4-0, Carbondale Central 1-0 and GCHS North 2-1.

South's only losses were 1-0 to Maine East and a 2-1 double overtime decision to GCHS North and again to the Steelers on penalty kicks in the sectional title game. North later lost to New Trier West in the state quarterfinals.

COUGARETTES' WIN STREAK BROKEN. A drive by Debbie Meehan (right) of Bunker Hill was thwarted as Principia College downed the Cougarettets of SIUE 5-0 in a field hockey game on the SIUE field. The defeat ended a three-game victory streak for the Cougarettets. Other Cougarettets shown are Debbie Johns (left) of Granite City and Debbie Paynic of Wood River (right background).

Dinner tonight to honor state quarterfinalist soccer Steelers

Granite City High School North faculty members, students and fans will host a sports banquet in the school's cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. today to honor the 1974 Steeler soccer team and Coach Bob Kehoe.

The second-year Steelers rallied behind the scoring of 13 different players to post a 20-4 season record and earn a berth in the Illinois High School Association state soccer tournament at DeKalb.

To be honored are: 10 seniors — Dave Dallas, Dave Hatcher, Bob Kurilla, Dave Wolf, Allen Harris, Dan Sedej, Harvey Breckner, Joe Uram, Bill Schlatweiler and Rick Worthen.

Two sophomores — Bob Young and Steve Szekely.

And three freshmen — Eric Thornburg, Marty Dooley and Eric Painter.

At the start of the 1974 season Kehoe told the Press-Record, "I'd like to say yes to a possible state berth, but that decision rests with the players."

"I can only teach them what to do. Once they are on the field, it's up to them to turn in a winning performance."

The players must have been listening to Kehoe's season-opening remarks because they swept past opponents with winning performances — defeating Alton 6-1, Peoria Central 6-0 and 8-1, Waterloo 10-0 and 4-0, Cahokia 4-0 and 3-0, GCHS South 2-1 and 5-3, Quincy 2-0, Collinsville 1-0, 2-1 and 3-1, St. Paul of Highland 2-0 and 2-0, Assumption of East St. Louis 1-0 twice and St. John's of Missouri 2-0 and 1-0.

North's losses were by 2-1 decisions to Quincy, Alton and GCHS South and a 2-0 setback by New Trier West, eventual state champion, in the opening round of the eight-team state soccer finals.

Commenting on the season, Kehoe said, "I would have to say that our most competitive opponent was GCHS South."

"It was through sheer determination, desire, ability and talent that the North boys got us past South twice in three games."

"Don't ever forget that South is a fine soccer team, and if things go right next year, we would still have to get past the Warriors again."

The Granite City high schools met twice in regular season play. Each contest went down to the wire in double-overtime periods, with 2-1 verdicts going to each team.

The final meeting between the Steelers and Warriors came in the GCHS South sectional title game, won by North 5-0 on penalty kicks.

Breckner headed the overall Steeler scoring effort with 18 goals and is described by Kehoe as being "one of the best high school players in the St. Louis area."

Aiding North's scoring during the season were: Roberson with 13, Gavlick and Sedej seven goals each, Ely five, Hartwick and Hatcher four apiece; Uram three, Wolf and Schlatweiler two each and one goal each by Yount, Worthen and Thornburg.

Credit for the team's 14 shutouts of opposing schools went to Goalkeeper Rick Demaree.

"He posed a defensive threat in every game," said Kehoe. "Rick would be a definite asset to any college coach."

Like its cross-town counterpart, GCHS South, North High will field a young team next year.

The Steelers now have a two-year soccer record of 38-4-1.

His two years as Warrior soccer mentor have seen the school compile a brilliant 36-2 record. South was the state soccer champion two years ago and placed third in Illinois a year ago.

Five seniors will graduate before the 1975 season begins — Ron Goldschmidt, Sheridan, Bennington, Kibort and Mason — leaving the Warriors with another young squad for next year.

"We are looking toward the future," comments Baker. "Even with a young team next year, everything looks promising."

Baker was named this weekend by the Illinois State Soccer Coaches Association in Chicago as the association's representative for all of Southern Illinois.

His duties will require him to further organize the sport in this part of the state, arrange tournaments, and head future panels of coaches to help select all-state team nominees.

Further information can be obtained by contacting the park office at 677-3059.

Wrestling Cougars to vie in tournament

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wrestling team begins its 1974-75 campaign this weekend with an appearance in the Great Plains Free-style Tournament in Omaha, Neb.

The tourney gets under way Friday and will conclude Saturday night.

"This is more or less an exhibition tournament for us," explained Cougar Coach Larry Kristoff. "There's no team championship, and we won't be taking a complete squad."

But the tournament will give Kristoff a chance to watch some of his youngsters, the wrestlers who must come through if SIUE is to challenge for the NCAA Division II championship. Last season, the Cougars finished third in the tournament and they have five of last year's six all-Americans back.

Kristoff will take four inexperienced matmen. At 112 pounds Jim Reizer, a freshman from Belleville East, will wrestle. Sophomore Henry Geller, a transfer student from Sunrise, Fla., will appear at 118. Another freshman, Terry Mulrenin of Oak Lawn, will compete at 126. And at 167, sophomore Dave Byrne, a native of Des Plaines, will start. In addition, the Cougars will field four tested veterans. Junior Ray McGrath, who had a 6-8 record last season, gets the nod at 155 pounds. He is from Richton Park.

Wrestling either at 215 or heavyweight will be senior Robin Rummel (11-2-1 record last season), a native of Peoria.

Also appearing at either 215 or heavyweight will be Jerry Washington (9-3), an all-American from Harvey, who finished second in the NCAA tournament at 180 pounds.

At 161 will be another all-American, senior Mike Taylor from St. Louis. Taylor, team captain for the second straight year, had a 36-6 mark and set a school record of 15 falls last season.

"This tournament will give us a good idea of what to expect when the regular season opens," Kristoff said.

SIUE will open Nov. 29-30 in the Southern Invitational, to be held in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Rascal equipment and registration

The Granite City Little Rascal boys' football club has designated Saturday, Nov. 16, as the date for all Midwest North and Central team players to return equipment used during this past season.

All players are to report to the office above the Granite City Press-Record, 1815 Delmar Ave., between 10 a.m. and noon with their equipment.

They also are to be prepared to register for the 1975 season at that time.

opens," Kristoff said.

SIUE will open Nov. 29-30 in the Southern Invitational, to be held in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Youth bowling will begin for 1974-75

The Granite City Park District will open its 1974-75 bowling season this Saturday at Tri-Mor Bowl, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

The program, which serviced approximately 100 youngsters last season, again will be conducted for junior high and senior high school age boys and girls.

Basic instruction is provided the participants in all leagues in fundamental skills of the sport.

Leagues are then formed from participants, and competition is held for 12 weeks.

Shoes are provided free of charge for the program, and participants pay a reduced rate of 45 cents per game.

Those wishing to participate are to report to the Tri-Mor bowling lanes at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Further information can be obtained by contacting the park office at 677-3059.

Sanford-Brown to open year with Jones, Glasper starting

Two former Quad-City area career stars will play again this year with Sanford-Brown College of St. Louis, which opens its 1974-75 basketball season tomorrow at Greenville College.

They are Guard Greg Jones, 6-2, of Granite City and Guard Roger Glasper, 5-7, of Madison.

The two players are the only starters from last year's team, which posted a 17-9 record.

Jones, a three-year letterman, scored 440 points in 26 games last season and led the team in field goal percentage at 59.9.

He also headed the free throw department with 75.3 per cent accuracy.

Glasper, a one-year letterman, scored 150 points in 23 games and led the team in assists with 91.

Cougars rated 3rd in nation

There's nothing like a big victory to boost a soccer team up in the national rankings, and that's what happened to the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville squad after its 1-0 upset of St. Louis University Friday night.

In the latest rankings released Tuesday by the U. S. Soccer Football Coaches Association, the Cougars jumped from eighth to third and were given one first-place vote.

A final poll will be released the week following the NCAA Division I championship finals at Busch Stadium, St. Louis, Dec. 27.

Despite the loss, St. Louis U. remains ahead of SIUE, in second place. The Billikens narrowly edged the Cougars by two votes (324-322) to claim the runnerup spot.

The 1-0 decision cost the Bills the No. 1 ranking as Howard University, a team with a 14-0-0 record, received 16 first-place votes for a total of 354.

The only other area team to crack the top 20 was powerful Quincy College, which has tied St. Louis U. and beaten the Cougars. The Hawks are ranked seventh with a 12-2-1 record.

Season tickets on sale at South

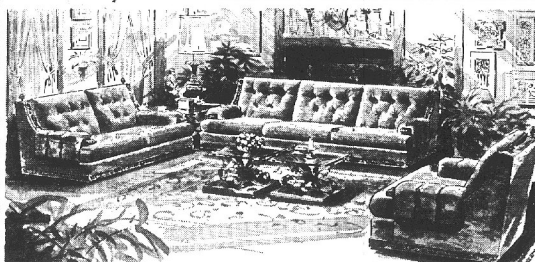

Season tickets for Granite City High School South basketball and wrestling events now are on sale in the high school office and will be sold at the first home event of each season.

Each sport will feature nine home games for South.

Season tickets cost $1 per game, a total of $9 for each sport. Admission at the events is $1.50 per person.

The basketball season opens Nov. 26 and wrestling will start Nov. 30.

While living in this area, Mrs. Friedls was a member of the First Methodist Church in Madison and belonged to the Minerva Club.

Her husband, Mal Friedls, died in 1962.

She is survived by one son, J. R. Friedls of Carbondale; two brothers, Marcus and Morris Gentry, both of Paragould, and two grandchildren.

Her remains will be taken from a Carbondale funeral home Friday to a cemetery in Paragould for graveside services Friday morning.

Interested singers are to bring an aria or a song and, if they wish, their own accompanist.

be completed by 1975, the mayor predicted, noting that this will bring added convenience and traffic.

The major St. Louis convention center is to be built on the north side of Downtown St. Louis, it was pointed out.

Also, the Great River Road (Federal Aid Route 151) will go across the McKinley Bridge and eventually connect the area from St. Paul, Minn., to New Orleans, La., Ebersold related.

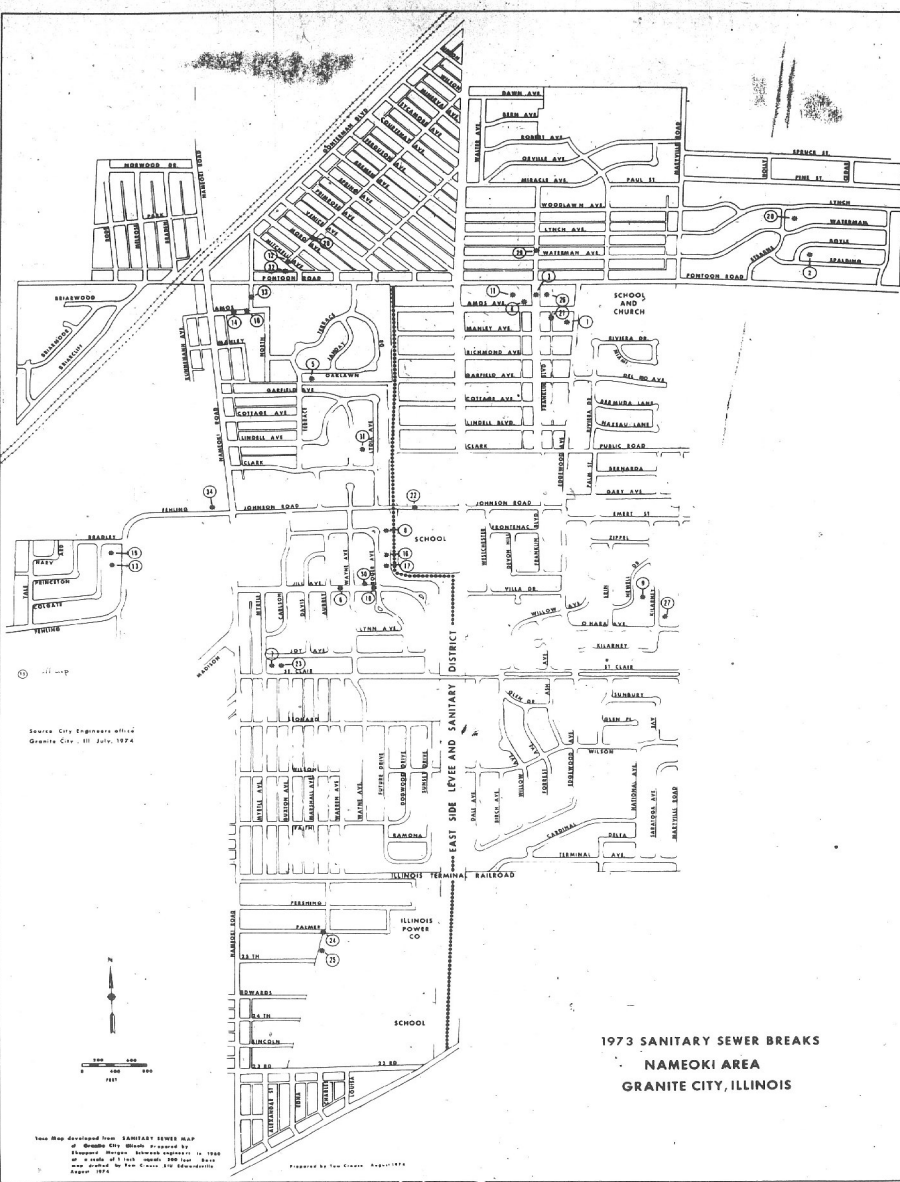

Also scheduled to attend the meeting are Alderman Tyrone Echols, chairman of the city's bridge committee, and Thomas Fields, administrative assistant to Mayor Ebersold.

for about $30,000 to $35,000. The new plan calls for a straight extension on the front of the building which would allow more space for the supervisor, town workers and general assistance workers, all of whom presently are housed in the town hall, and adding the assessor and collector's offices, now housed separately.

The auditors voted to have the town clerk advertise immediately for bids on the work with the bids to be opened at the Nov. 25 regular board meeting.

1973 SANITARY SEWER BREAKS
NAMEOKI AREA
GRANITE CITY, ILLINOIS

Sentence Castille, Fairfield, Fisher

Billy Joe Castille, 31, of the 2100 block of Missouri Avenue, has been sentenced to serve three to nine years in prison after being found guilty of burglary.

Two men convicted with him, Fred P. Fairfield, 39, of 39, and Paul Dean Fisher, 39, of Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach, were sentenced at the same time to serve one to three year prison terms.

The sentences were passed by Judge Harold Clark in Madison County Circuit Court at Alton. Judge Clark, told by defense attorneys that the case will be appealed, ordered the three men released on bonds pending disposition of the appeal.

The three were found guilty by a jury Sept. 12 of the burglary of Gasen Drugs, 3401 Nameoki Road, on June 10, 1973. They were tried twice on the charge, the first jury being unable to reach a unanimous verdict June 13.

Explorer Presidents Association formed

A preliminary organizational meeting to establish a Uniwa (Quad-Cities) District Explorer President Association (EPA) was held Wednesday evening at Coolidge Junior High School under the leadership of Dr. Jack Miller, chairman-elect of the district, and Thomas Hooks, member of the district Explorer committee.

It was decided that each Explorer post will have one vote in the affairs of the organization. This is to be cast by the individual post president or his authorized representative.

A meeting to elect a chairman and secretary will be held at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 14 at Coolidge. Every post, although they may cast only one vote, is asked to have its officers present, according to Hooks.

The chairman elected will preside at district EPA meetings, represent the district at council EPA meetings and attend meetings of the council Exploring committee.

The secretary will take care of all correspondence, write news articles for the council bulletin and keep post officer rosters up to date.

Venice park meeting plans

Authority was granted during the weekend for the five commissioners of the Venice Park Board—Peter Ponce, John Mitchell, Clifford Canver, Ola Dandridge and Willie Teel—to attend the Illinois Parks and Recreation Conference at Stouffer's Riverfront Towers in St. Louis Nov. 21-24.

The only other action at the board's regular meeting at the Venice Recreation Center was approval of a monthly treasurer's report.

Faces 4 charges

Anita Champion, 24, of 2320 E. 20th St., was charged Tuesday night with leaving the scene of an accident, failure to give notice of an accident, failure to give information upon striking a vehicle and reckless driving after her auto allegedly was involved in a hit and run accident.

Police allege her car struck the parked car of Phillip Dalton, 2306 Washington Ave., in front of Dalton's home at 8:20 p.m. Tuesday, then left the scene. Officers found the hit-and-run vehicle in the 2700 block of Madison Ave.

years, he related.

"We know a lot of things now that we didn't know before," Dr. Koepke said.

"We have definitely established a relationship between the stage of the Mississippi River and the groundwater table."

He said that Granite City is built on sand which permits infiltration of water underground, depending upon pressure from the river stage.

It is possible, he said, that the level of Dorey Slough, Horse-shoe Lake and other areas may rise, even though there has been no rain in this particular area.

Charts, maps and graphs of groundwater and river stage levels since 1952 and locations of sewer breaks in the Nameoki area were distributed to the board by Dr. Koepke, who noted that the data was preliminary to correlation of all the data in the final report.

Houston told council members that he expected the engineering phase of the study to take at least "several months" because "each case must be studied on its own."

He said the work will entail uncovering some of the more severe sewer breaks to study the apparent cause of the sewer breaks.

The special meeting was called to hear Dr. Koepke and Houston outline the progress thus far on the sewer study. The council transacted no other business.

Suit

The board on Sept. 29 rejected a bid from the Peters firm of $65,675, or almost 140 per cent over the engineers' estimate of $40,000 for the work on a nine-foot wide swall. That was the only bid received at that time. Several changes and clarifications then were made to allow the bids to be brought more into line with the estimate.

Sternberg's bid on the nine-foot system is 24 per cent over the estimate. The bid on the six-foot system is less than four per cent higher than the engineers' estimate on the nine-foot system.

At Monday night's meeting, Auditor Norman Hessler thanked Supervisor Louis Whitsell for his work in identifying the owners of property along Roney Drive so that easements may be obtained for a ditch to carry water from that area to the new Dorey Slough pumping station.

Gerald Teller, township health officer, told the board he has met with homeowners in the Barnhardt subdivision and they would appreciate the township making drainage improvements there.

He said the homeowners would prefer an underground pipe system, rather than an open ditch, since the ditch could create a health hazard.

Whitsell said the homeowners there are paying high taxes on their homes and deserve an underground system. Hessler asked whether the highway department or the residents are to install the system, if the township supplies the materials.

Whitsell suggested the board study the question and discuss it further at the board's next regular meeting Nov. 25.

The supervisor told the board that the township land use committee needs Highway Commissioner Albert Bell to sign a document which will give the township control over new pump stations in the Northland Estates number five subdivision.

In an agreement with the developer, George Arnold, the township is to assume control of the pump stations one year after the documents are signed and Arnold will agree to make any major repairs to the pumps free if needed within five years after the signing.

Bell said he would not sign the document until Arnold has given him a bond guaranteeing that the developer will be responsible for major repairs to the pumps.

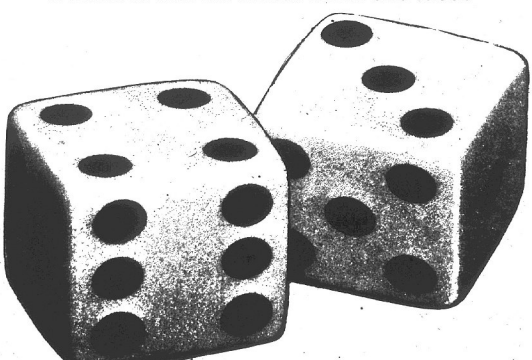

A township resident told the board that Rooychi Realty was interested in purchasing her property between Deborah Court and Warnock Avenue, if a mobile home could be placed on the property.

Whitsell said he is of the opinion that the property is in a natural watershed and that no house or mobile home may be constructed there.

He said he hopes a government program can be approved in the near future where the state could purchase such unusable property from the owners, thus giving them a fair market price for their land and relieving them of the obligations to pay tax on property then can not use for building.

Doctoral proposal was also reviewed by the state's Commission of Scholars which strongly recommended the new doctorate.

More than 100 unsolicited requests have been received from persons who would like to be considered for admittance to the program, according to the School of Education.

Initial admittance will be limited to about 20, despite the heavy demand and interest in the program.

"We must limit our enrollment to be realistic in terms of our resources," Dr. Wiley said.

He said the approach of the new program will be "to get into the fundamentals of what is occurring in the schools themselves, vis-a-vis the teaching-learning relationship."

It will be heavily oriented toward people in instructional leadership positions — teachers, principals, curriculum directors and central office personnel involved in the teaching-learning process.

"The program places heavy emphasis on internship and field experiences, thus, the practical spin-off value will be of high priority. Graduates will be able to go back to the school for immediate application of their new learning," the dean said.

There will be a strong interdisciplinary aspect to the program, coordinated with five of the academic schools on the SUE campus.

The dean said the new doctoral program will also involve the Schools of Humanities, Social Sciences, Fine Arts, Science and Technology and Business.

Dr. Wiley said the new doctorate will not be a pure research degree. "While students will be expected to generate a creative product which might be similar to the traditional doctoral dissertation, we are going to tap the students' creativity in the development of a worthwhile professional project of immediate value to the local school unit," he said.

"The burden will be shifted from the traditional professor-oriented program to one where the student sets individualized goals for his own professional development," Dr. Wiley continued.

"We will be appealing to people already firmly committed to education as a career. They will come to the program with a rich store of knowledge already, and they will have the opportunity to build on that knowledge base."

In other actions affecting SUE, the BHE approved granting of a bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering and formation of a Institute for Urban Studies.

Most of the courses for the bachelor of science in industrial engineering are already being offered at SUE by the departments of mathematics and engineering and technology in the School of Science and Technology and by the department of management science in the School of Business.

The new degree program is not available in other universities serving the metropolitan St. Louis area.

The Institute for Urban Studies will provide an administrative structure for inter-school graduate programs dealing with urban problems, including the existing master's programs in behavioral science and in urban studies.

The institute also would be the administrative agency for a proposed master's program in environmental science and the Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services.

Alternate Arctic gas plan outlined

Conservation of energy, economy of systems and direct market accessibility provided the central theme outlined Monday by Robert W. Ward, president of Alaskan Arctic Gas Pipeline Company, a firm proposing a multi-billion dollar pipeline to tap Alaskan and Canadian gas reserves. The line would run through Illinois.

St. Louis of the National Association of Manufacturers. "Conservation of energy in these items of shortages is a number one concern for not only the nation, but for individual consumers throughout America."

The 2600-mile, 48-inch Arctic Gas pipeline from the Arctic to the south would be transporting

4.5 billion cubic feet of gas per day—2.25 billion from Alaska's Prudhoe Bay and 2.25 billion from Canada's Mackenzie Delta. This is six per cent of the entire North American demand for natural gas.

The former Alaskan lieutenant governor told NAM's Energy and Resources Development and Environmental Quality Committees that all of the Alaskan gas would be transported to U.S. markets, as could any Canadian gas which is excess to Canada's needs.

Ward said the Arctic Gas proposal has advantages over a system proposed by El Paso Gas Co. to tap Prudhoe Bay and one to tap Mackenzie gas proposed by Alberta Gas Trunk Line.

Ward also told the NAM delegates Arctic Gas is completing its basic filing for applications to build the mammoth line with appropriate American and Canadian authorities and expressed hope for reasonable speed in acting on the requests.

214,000 riding bus on average weekday

A major increase in riding and many service improvements have resulted from public financial support of the Bi-State Transit System during the past 12-month period, James E. Terry, general manager of the system, said this week on the first anniversary of a substantial reduction in fares.

"A year ago the basic fare was reduced from 45 to 35 cents and senior citizens were permitted to ride for 15 cents during off-peak hours."

"Reductions in other rates were also made and, as a result, our transit system's fares are among the lowest in the country. Overall, the new fares represent a reduction in rates of about 44 per cent," Terry said.

"At the same time we added nine new lines and since then we have put on five more new lines, making a total of 14 new lines."

"In addition, we have extended service on 26 lines into areas that did not have access to bus service previously and, finally, we have added bus trips on 28 existing lines to make the service more attractive to present riders as well as prospective riders."

"As a result of the reduced fares and these major service improvements, we have had a substantial increase in average weekday passengers—from 181,000 to 214,000 per day, a rise of 18 per cent."

"There also has been an increase of 18 per cent in bus miles operated—from 64—700 to 76—700 on an average weekday."

Terry said: "The reduced fares and many improvements in bus service since last fall have been made possible not only through public financial aid, but also through dedicated support from public officials, civic leaders and the citizens of our bi-state community."

"We think we've made a good start but we know we have a long way to go. To get the job done, we will need the continued support of the community to help us provide the best possible transit service for the social and economic welfare of our St. Louis metropolitan area of Missouri-Illinois."

In this connection, plans for the immediate future include:

- (1) "Purchase of 240 new buses for the coming year, with 500 more by 1980."
- (2) "A hundred additional passenger shelters throughout the system."

"Further route and service improvements for increased convenience and mobility of the public."

(4) "Increased citizen participation in planning expansions of the bus system."

Illinois GOP will seek 'broader party base' Nov. 18

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Nov. 14, 1974 Page 12

Sen. Charles H. Percy, viewing results of this off-year election as a "negative referendum," has called a meeting of Illinois Republicans to rebuild the state party.

Percy acted after the balloting sent Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson to a smashing victory over his Republican challenger, George Burditt, and turned the 14-to-10 Republican margin into a 13-to-11 Democratic edge in the Illinois Congressional delegation.

There has been editorial comment in Illinois that Republicans in the state are without effective leadership. Percy, taking his cue from the GOP setback in the state, apparently has decided to fill the vacuum.

"We've got to broaden the party," an aide in Percy's Washington office said as the full dimensions of the Democratic victory became starkly evident.

Percy got on the phone on election night and talked to party leaders, Republican congressmen and state officials. He organized a meeting for Nov. 18 in Chicago "to talk about rebuilding the party in Illinois."

"He got a positive response from the people he talked to," his aide said.

Percy's Presidential "exploratory" committee is still, in his phrase, "on the back burner."

But if there is a clear signal from party leaders that they want him as a potential candidate in 1976, he'll be available.

In his Chicago statement on the Democratic sweep, Percy alluded to the GOP need to broaden its constituency.

"I consider it a negative referendum," he said of the 1974 election. "If Republicans have turned voters off, the Democrats have not turned them on."

"It is increasingly difficult to say what either party stands for any more. Neither party is offering a substantive program, or even a sense of direction at this time when the country urgently needs both."

Percy said, "This failure is more ominous for Republicans than Democrats," for the GOP is not only saddled with Watergate but with "an even slimmer minority than before."

"We will never be anything but a minority as long as we are perceived as a party of narrow special interests, a party too often indifferent to the needs and aspirations of the majority of our citizens," he declared.

Percy said Republicans can rebound only by offering "distinct" programs offering "realistic answers" to the problems "we all face."

Sen. Stevenson's campaign against Burditt amounted in the long run to overkill, so great was his margin over the Republican.

Stevenson praised Burditt as "a man of high integrity and a credit to his party," and voiced hope Burditt would continue in public service.

Stevenson saw the election as the vindication of an abused electorate which has had to suffer in silence until it reached the polls, where "the American people brought down their judgment on five years of failure and misrule."

"The people have spoken," Stevenson said. "And they deserve to be heard in the White House. They deserve to be heard in the Congress."

"Now that the tumult and the shouting have died, it is time to put aside all partisanship and get on with the nation's business."

"A Democratic Congress must work cooperatively with a Republican President to move the country ahead," he added. "The times are too dangerous for anything but partnership and agreement."

In one of the Illinois Congressional races, Republican Sam Young was not immediately ready to concede that Abner Mikva, liberal Democrat who he had unseated two years ago, had won back the hotly-contested 10th District seat.

Young's aides said Mikva's lead was narrow and wildly fluctuating and there appeared to be voting irregularities in Cook County, particularly in the 12th District Republican seat. Aides said his percentage was about 61 per cent, "within the range" he had predicted for himself.

Retiring House Minority Whip Leslie C. Arends, who saw his vested 15th District seat going to Democrat Tim L. Hall instead of Republican Clifford Carlson, attributed Hall's victory to a large labor vote in LaSalle County.

"The unions worked like heck for Hall," said Arends, one of the few congressmen back in Washington quickly after the election.

Arends was frankly glad not to be in this election. "My timing was good; forty years of this is enough."

Rep. Robert M. Michel of Peoria, the Republican Congressional campaign chairman, held onto his 16th District seat by what aides candidly conceded was a narrow 53 per cent.

"Yes, we were surprised," said one aide. "We would've looked for something in the higher 50s."

Rep. Thomas F. Railsback, one of the two Illinoisans on the House Judiciary Committee, had worried about his votes to impeach President Nixon, but said he would stick to his guns in a "no-win proposition."

The 19th District returned Republican Railsback with 65 per cent of the vote, among the highest margins in Illinois.

"Super!" exclaimed a young woman on his staff. Rep. Robert McClory, Railsback's senior Illinois colleague on the Judiciary Committee, also voted to impeach Mr. Nixon, and he, too, was ready to take the consequences at the polls if that was to be.

McClory held onto his 13th

District seat, but by 10 percentage points less than Railsback's victory margin. His aides admitted surprise. "We didn't think it would be as close as it was," said one. "We expected something like 57 to 58 per cent."

Rep. George M. O'Brien, freshman Republican who campaigned tirelessly to retain his 17th District seat, kept it by a surprisingly narrow margin, 2,000 votes.

An aide said O'Brien won because he ran ahead of the Republican ticket. He lost Will County by a thousand votes and carried Kankakee county by 2,500 while the GOP ticket lost in both.

Rep. Paul Findley, 20th District Republican, won reelection by 54.8 per cent. The last time, he got 57.3 per cent. The substantial drop was a "sobering" experience and he is "grateful" he won, says an aide.

"I don't know how to account for it," the aide said of plummeting Republican margins.

"It's of the same magnitude as the Goldwater defeat in '64." Even Rep. John N. Erlenborn, 14th District Republican and one of the most potent vote-getters in the Illinois delegation, dropped from 71.72 per cent to 66.5 per cent.

"Considering the trend," said an aide, "he did very well."

Rep. John B. Anderson, third-ranking House Republican and chairman of the Republican Conference Committee, dropped about 10 percentage points this year, but emerged in a three-way race with a 55 per cent margin in the 16th District. Anderson had realistically in cloakroom conversations with reporters foreseen such a Republican decline in the 1974 election.

Aides in the office of Rep. Edward R. Madigan, R-21st Dist., said they were "cleared" by his 65.7 per cent margin of victory.

Rep. George E. Shipley, 22nd District Democrat who turned back Republican challenger William A. Young, was back in Washington with the few early arrivals on the Hill. Shipley said he was "surprised" he won by 60 per cent. His most optimistic guess had been a margin of 54 to 55 per cent.

"It's difficult to read this election," he said. But he believes that besides inflation, there was a residual resentment against Republicans over President Ford's pardon of ex-President Richard Nixon and also the White House amnesty actions.

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
Miss Granite City of 1975 will be selected Friday, Nov. 29, from among eight young women — six of whom are brunettes and two are blonde.

The beauty-talent pageant, which will produce a local representative to the Miss Illinois Pageant at Aurora in July, will be staged at Granite City High School South auditorium at 7 p.m. Friday in the central lobby of the First Granite City National Bank and continue next Friday, Nov. 22, at the same time and location. Owen Ross, pageant chairman, said today.

Orchestra seats, priced at $3 each, and advance reserved seats, at $2.50 each, are available to the public tomorrow and next Friday at the bank, or from Jaycee members.

"Fiddler On the Roof," she was featured as Hodel.

Miss Asadorian maintained a four-point academic average throughout her high school career. She also is a member of St. Gregory's Armenian Church choir.

A brunette with brown eyes and an olive complexion, her talent in the contest will be singing. She is five feet, five inches tall, weighs 120 pounds and her measurements are 34-24-35.

Miss Becherer was graduated this summer from Granite City High School North, where she was selected Spring Carousal Queen at North High and also served as attendant in the Homecoming Court.

At high school, she was a Silver Spirit award winner and was a member of the Student Council. She served as publicity chairman for the Girl's Athletic Association.

Miss Becherer is continuing her education at Brown's Business College. She enjoys softball, basketball and soccer and her hobbies include sewing and art.

She is a brunette with green eyes and a fair complexion. Her measurements are 35-24-35. She is five feet, three inches tall and weighs 110 pounds.

In the talent sequence, she will give a dramatic presentation.

A varsity cheerleader at Granite City High School South, where she was voted "Miss School Spirit," Miss Boyd serves as Student Council treasurer and represented the council at a special workshop at McKeandree College, Lebanon.

She is a former model for Six, Baer & Fuller department store and was among the finalists in the Miss Illinois Teenager contest.

Miss Boyd is an accomplished square dancer and has participated in two concerts with the Southern Illinois University Rock Chalk Band at the Edwardsville campus. She was a member of the Homecoming Court and performed in the Homecoming play.

She is five feet, two inches tall, weighs 105 pounds and has brown hair and brown eyes. Her measurements are 33-22-33. She will sing and dance in the talent segment.

Classical guitar selections will be performed by Miss Langley as her talent presentation in the pageant. She has studied guitar, both classical and electric, for six years and also has received voice lessons.

A student at Granite City High School South, Miss Langley currently is attending music theory classes at Washington University, St. Louis. She plans to further her education at college in the field of music.

She is a member of the St. Elizabeth Guitar Group and CVO, and GCHS-South Red Peppers and Vocal Club. She was in the cast of the 1973 Homecoming play and has won awards at the Mid-America Music Festivals and also for her swimming ability.

A blonde with blue eyes and a fair complexion, the candidate is five feet, six inches tall and weighs 116 pounds. Her measurements are 34-26-35.

Every once in a while one of our suppliers accidentally ship us some bad merchandise that gets into our stores. Recently we received some of our "C. W." brand Catsup which was of inferior quality. We think we have got most of it back from the store, however, if you have bought some (just tell your "Tri-City Grocery Manager" and he will give you a new bottle... (there is no need to bring the old bottle back...)) All our "C. W." catsup is now good quality "A" Grade... again, we're sorry for any inconvenience.

Election drew light vote

A total vote of 52,881 ballots, or only 39 per cent of the countywide voter registration, was cast in the Nov. 5 general elections in Madison County, according to the results of the official vote canvass completed this week by the office of County Clerk Eulalia Hotz.

The total election vote of 52,881 was 21,104 votes less than were cast in the last "off-year" election in 1970 when 73,995 persons cast ballots countywide.

The official tally gave a total vote of 29,933 to George Musso, Democratic candidate for county treasurer, a loss of 200 votes from his unofficial count of 29,133. Musso defeated Donald W. Emde who polled an official 20,067 votes, a loss of one from the unofficial 20,068.

Harold "Gene" Briggs, Democratic candidate for superintendent of the educational service region, polled an official vote of 35,905, a gain of 608 votes over his unofficial count of 35,387. Briggs also was unopposed.

Cong. Melvin Price (D), East St. Louis, polled a total of 27,372 votes in Madison County, a gain of 300 from his unofficial tally of 27,072, while his Republican opponent, Scott Randolph polled 6,942 officially, up 25 votes from his unofficial tally of 6,917.

In the race for state representative of the 36th Legislative District, which includes the Quad-Cities, incumbent State Rep. Horace Calvo (D) of Granite City polled 28,652 votes and Joe E. Lucco (D) polled 28,619, both showing gains from their unofficial counts. The unofficial tally for Calvo was 28,312½ and for Lucco, 28,304½.

On the Republican ballot in the legislative race, Everett G. Steele officially received 19,481 votes, up from an unofficial 19,167, while incumbent Robert J. Walters polled 15,759½ officially, up from his earlier count of 15,329½.

At the top of the ballot, Adlai E. Stevenson, seeking re-election as U.S. Senator, polled an official 35,231 in Madison County, a gain of 550 votes over his unofficial tally of 34,681. His Republican opponent, George M. Burditt polled 15,050 votes, officially in Madison County, a loss of eight votes from his unofficial count of 15,058.

an unofficial tally of 32,554. His Republican opponent, Harry Page, polled 15,050 officially, a loss of three votes from his unofficial count of 15,053.

Only minor changes were reported in the official canvass of the vote for three trustees of the University of Illinois. Democratic candidates for the university posts were elected.

Their official vote tallies, with unofficial count in parenthesis, are: Nina T. Shepherd 31,555 (31,508); Arthur E. Velasquez 28,929 (28,682); Robert J. Lenz 27,372 (30,359).

The Republican vote for trustee candidates was: Timothy W. Swain, 14,201 (14,204); Russell W. Steger 14,615 (14,576); Gardner W.

Heidrick 13,813 (13,824).

In other district races, John M. Karns Jr., Democratic candidate for judge of the Fifth District Appellate Court, polled an official 34,783 votes, up from an unofficial tally of 34,584. He had no opposition on the GOP ballot.

McKendree homecoming

Amidst the fading political elections and the clamor over football playoffs, McKendree College is staging its annual alumni homecoming Friday through Sunday in the relatively quiet town of Lebanon. Theme this year is "Stairway to Heaven."

A mini-concert at 8 p.m. featuring Michael Johnson will highlight Friday's activities. Johnson, who has done concerts with Judy Collins, was a member of the now-defunct group "Denver, Boyce and Johnson." If the name-Denver rings a bell, it is the popular recording star John Denver, and much of Johnson's music reflects this association with him.

For the concert in the Upper Deneen Room, admission is $1. Following the concert there will be live entertainment at the Coffee House at Hynes Field from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The heart of every homecoming is a parade featuring the presentation of queen candidates, and McKendree is not without its own. The parade, which begins at 10 a.m. Saturday from Hynes Field, will travel south on Alton Street and east on St. Louis Street in Lebanon.

Twenty different units are scheduled in the parade. Marching bands from Mater Dei, O'Fallon, Lebanon and Marissa High Schools will be participating, as will the Alton Temple Brass and the Bein Kedem Motor Patrol. Five or six floats will be positioned in the review, complete with clowns.

Three McKendree seniors are in contention for homecoming queen. Deborah Lanius of Cahokia, Georgia Martin of Rindall, Ill., and Nancy Weible of Collinsville.

Basketball is big at McKendree, and a 3 p.m. contest against Judson College will be a preview of what fans can expect in '74-'75. Judson College returns all five of its starters from last year while McKendree returns but one. Although inexperienced, the Bearcats promise to be strong. Tickets are available for the game.

A dance at Fischer's, 2100 West Main St., Belleville, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. will close Saturday's activities. "Sparks" will provide the entertainment. Tickets are available for $10 per couple or $5.50 for singles.

On Sunday, an 8 p.m. movie in the Deneen Center, "The Owl and the Pussycat," which features Barbra Streisand will close the busy weekend.

POST KNOCKED DOWN

The driver of a red auto, traveling north on Washington Avenue at 6:30 p.m. Friday, drove across the curb at 25th Street and struck an Illinois Power Co. utility pole, knocking it into the middle of the street. The motorist then left the scene.

Sewer repairs completed

Benjamin Honorable, civil defense director of Venice, told the Venice City Council Tuesday night that the total cost for repair of 1973 flood damage to sanitary sewer lines will be $296,989, and that all repair work has been completed.

The city has been reimbursed by the federal government $125,000 to date, and another $90,000 is expected to be received within the next few days, bringing the total reimbursement to $215,000, Honorable said.

Honorable noted that after the Office of Emergency Preparedness (OEP) makes its final inspection, the remaining $61,989 will be received by the city. The government has allowed a maximum of $425,000 for the repair work. The total cost will be approximately $149,000 less than the federal estimate.

"We don't have the best sewers in the area and we don't have the worst," Honorable said. "When they were televising the sewer system we saw several areas where breaks in all probability will occur again if we have another high water situation like two years ago. We will need to investigate ways of strengthening the sewers that did not break, but are weak."

Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold said, "I can't thank you enough, Mr. Honorable, for the time and effort you have put in on solving the sewer problem and staying on top of the financing. The entire city owes you a debt of gratitude."

The council approved an ordinance calling for the sale of a 25 foot by 140 foot lot at 1204 Market St. at public auction. The land owned by the city formerly was the location of a fire house. The date and time of the auction has not yet been set.

Thomas Fields, Venice administrative officer, announced that an application has been filed under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) for federal money to fill public service jobs. If the application is approved it will permit seven public jobs in various city departments.

City Attorney Harry Hartman was directed by the council to draw up a resolution for the next council meeting, honoring the late Louis Ratliff, alderman of the Third Ward who died last week.

"Louis did an outstanding job for the entire city of Venice and served the Third Ward well. If his replacement, who ever that may be, does only one half of what Alderman Ratliff did for the people of Venice, we will have a good man," Mayor Ebersold said.

The council meeting was opened with a silent prayer for the late alderman. The chair he used at the council table was lifted into the table with a floral wreath in his honor draped over it.

Extend solid waste management efforts

A $20,000 grant to be used for continuation of the St. Louis region's Solid Waste Management Program has been awarded to the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The grant, to be matched by $20,000 in Gateway Council funds, is to be used primarily for assistance to local-level governments attempting to deal with waste management problems.

Council staff members will assist counties and municipalities in the St. Louis region with problems ranging from planning and collection to source separation and recycling of waste materials.

The Gateway Council will also continue to work with Union Electric Co., providing data and assistance needed to develop the energy recovery aspect of the regional solid waste management plan.

East-West will continue to place heavy emphasis on efforts to improve the efficiency of solid waste collection work in the St. Louis region, a spokesman said.

Collection is the major expense in waste management and has been a focal point of East-West Gateway activities in recent months.

Swimmers again will raise funds for 'Y'

The third annual Swim-Ython has been set for Nov. 29-30, Harold Rudolph, Tri-City Area YMCA executive director, has announced.

The display of fitness through swimming will help raise funds for the local "Y" and also for YMCA World Service.

"This is an opportunity for young and old to participate in a project of community involvement," Rudolph said. "We want swimmers of all ages, active YMCA members or not, who believe in the 'Y' goals locally and worldwide."

Money raised will be used to:

1. Provide memberships here through Friends of Youth for children who cannot afford them.
2. Support efforts in 87 countries around the world to help provide education, disaster relief and summer camps where needed.
3. Support Indian YMCAs in the Dakotas and also work being done on reservations to curb the suicide rate. The rate there is five times that of the rest of the nation, Rudolph reports.
4. Support the local YMCA aquatic program to promote swimming and water safety.

Each Swim-Ython sponsor will pay a specified amount for every pool length the entry swims within 15 minutes.

Each swimmer may have as many sponsors as he or she can obtain.

Payments to the "Y" may range from 10 cents to several dollars a length. The pool is 20 yards long.

Swimmers' performance will be tallied on sponsors' sign-up sheets and verified by a committee member at the pool.

Following the swim, each participant will again contact his sponsor and collect the amount pledged, multiplied by the number of pool lengths attained.

All contributions are tax deductible, Rudolph said. It is hoped to obtain at least 50 swimmers and 400 sponsors.

Registration is being conducted at the YMCA desk. Specific times will be scheduled for the swimming.

Those under age 21 may pick up parent waiver cards.

Conservation group dinner

George Carson, an authority on outdoor hunting, fishing and wildlife conservation, will be the featured speaker at the Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District annual meeting.

It will be a dinner meeting on Tuesday, February 18, 1973 at 7 p.m. in the United Church of Christ Fellowship Hall in Grantfork.

Two directors will be elected to the district board and awards and recognition will be given for outstanding conservation achievements.

Marshall school is burglarized

Movie and slide projectors and a Civil Defense warning radio were stolen from Marshall School, it was reported at 6:10 a.m. Tuesday.

Entry was gained by breaking an east cafeteria window. The office was ransacked and several cabinets were opened. In the kitchen, the refrigerator and milk cooler doors were left open, officials were told.

Window display for Bible week

During National Bible Week Sunday through Nov. 23 the Christian Science Reading Room at 1336 Nineteenth Street will feature a special window display on the Bible.

The display features the Nov. 23 issue of the Christian Science Sentinel, which includes seven articles on making the Bible pertinent to daily living.

One of them, "The Unsealed Bible and World Affairs," points to ways that students of the Bible can help to establish a higher sense of government for nations and the world — government by principle.

The window display also will feature books available for research and supplemental study of the Bible, according to Mrs. Jesse Wyatt, reading room librarian. Members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, 2560 Delmar Ave., are welcome to visit the Reading Room.

Studded tire season here

Year-long probe ends in drug and gun indictments

Supt. Wayne A. Kerstetter on Wednesday announced that agents of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation (IBI) along with Illinois state troopers, East St. Louis police, St. Clair County sheriff's police, deputy U.S. marshals, agents from the U.S. Treasury Department's Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Bureau and agents of the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration have issued warrants for arrest of 18 persons on drug, stolen guns and other charges in East St. Louis. Eleven were taken into custody, he said.

The arrests are the result of a year-long cooperative investigation by IBI agents and the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of Illinois.

Refunds mailed in pricing case

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott announced today that refund checks totaling $145,000 are in the mail to the state of Illinois, school districts, and other political subdivisions that filed claims as victims of price-fixing in a suit won by Scott's office against gypsum wallboard and related products. Scott said the $145,000 involved in this initial installment represents about 40 percent of the total $325,000 to $350,000 which Illinois and its political subdivisions will receive in the settlement.

First installment of the refunds for the state of Illinois will be $47,633, Scott said. The University of Illinois will receive $19,242 on its first installment check. Illinois was the first state to file an anti-trust action against the six companies. Scott's suit filed in 1966 in federal district court in California, charged the companies with price-fixing on gypsum wall board, plaster, and lath during 1966 and 1967. Illinois Special Assistant Attorney General Lee A. Freeman was named by the court to represent 35 other states and their political subdivisions who had not filed their own suits against the gypsum companies.

Total repayment to the 50 states and their political subdivisions will be about 10 percent of the $67,500,000 total settlement which will go to contractors, dealers, and private builders, as well as the public entities.

DIFFERENT ADDRESS
A 18-year-old man charged last week in connection with the alleged seizure of 10 pounds of marijuana lives in the 3900 block of Maryville Road, not at an address in the 3200 block, residents of the latter address have reported.

Supt. Kerstetter. During the course of the investigation, undercover IBI agents allegedly purchased heroin, Preludin, illegal sawed-off shotguns on three occasions and a stolen car. Preludin is a stimulant drug similar in action to amphetamines. It is controlled under both Illinois and federal law.

The evidence gathered during the investigation was presented to federal grand juries sitting in Benton and East St. Louis. Suppressed indictments were returned and led to the arrests

Some of the persons arrested are charged in federal warrants and have not yet been indicted. A few of those arrested are only charged with violations of state law; these persons will be prosecuted by the state's attorney of St. Clair County. The persons taken into custody were: Claude Berry Sr., 53, East St. Louis - sale of Preludin (3 counts) - federal grand jury indictment. 4 local banks to sell car licenses starting Dec. 2

Over-the-counter sales of 1975 Illinois passenger license plates will officially start Monday, Dec. 2, Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett said today. A record total of 364 banks throughout the state will participate in the license sale program this year. This represents an increase of 73 over last year. All four Quad-City banks will participate.

In addition, 675 currency exchanges, most located in the Chicago area, will sell license plates over the counter this year. Last year, banks sold 1,786,030 plates and currency exchanges 401,847. Plates also may be purchased over the counter on the first floor of the Centennial building in Springfield and at three Secretary of State Motor Vehicle facilities in Chicago. "The extension of over-the-counter sales should provide even more convenient license service for applicants," Howlett said. "Most motorists who prefer to purchase their plates this way will have only a short distance to travel." Notarization is not required for purchase of a license

Howlett re-emphasized that pre-printed renewal notices should be used when purchasing 1975 plates over the counter. These forms were mailed last summer to all registered car owners. "We urge everyone to use his computer-printed form when buying licenses," Howlett added. Local banks that will be selling license plates are the American National Bank of Granite City, First Granite City National Bank, First National Bank in Madison and Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

Indict two GC men

Two Granite City men were indicted by a federal grand jury in Palm Beach, Fla., accused of smuggling about three tons of marijuana, valued at $1.2 million, into Florida from Jamaica. Michael Ray Allen, 22, and Thomas J. Cavanaugh, 29, both of Granite City, were among six arrested in the West Palm Beach and Jupiter, Fla., area June 9, after the marijuana was found aboard a 42-foot motorboat docked at a home on the Intracoastal Waterway. Charges against six men were dismissed and sixth man was arrested later. The captain of the boat, Richard Hailstone, 27, Raymond, Ill., put a gun in his mouth and shot himself as federal agents boarded the boat and began to question him. Among the others who have been indicted is Willie Albert Mize, 42, Collinsville, who was found guilty Oct. 17 by a federal grand jury of conspiracy, illegal liquor sales, theft, possession of

Nursing seminar set at SIUE

The School of Nursing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor a three-day rehabilitation seminar for area nurses Dec. 3, 4, and 5, according to Ina Ingwersen, director of continuing education. The workshops, presented by the Rehabilitation Education Service of the Department of Health, are designed to provide individuals in the field of nursing with the principles of reality, orientation, remedial activities, and rehabilitation. Emphasis will be placed on the interrelationships of these processes through a team approach. The meetings will begin at 8:30 a.m. and adjourn at 4 p.m. each day. Registration deadline is Nov. 20. There will be a $6 fee for the three days. On Dec. 3, the meeting place will be the Illinois Room of the University Center; Dec. 4, the Missouri Room; and Dec. 5, the Deje Vu Room. The seminar is limited to 50 participants. A nursing home may send two participants. If the nursing home serves more than 100 patients, an additional person may be sent for each 50 patients over the first 100, Mrs. Ingwersen said.

U.S. survey to aid farmers

Estimates of cattle, hog, chicken, and sheep numbers, expected pig and calf crops, and winter wheat plantings will hinge on a major nationwide survey set for late fall by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. James R. Kendall, statistician in charge of the Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service, explained that published estimates from this annual survey are always significant to those making decisions in agriculture. However, the information will carry added importance this year because of concerns surrounding feed grain supplies and prices and their impact on livestock and poultry production.

James R. Kendall said the wheat acreage estimate also will draw heavy attention because farmers were again free to plant for the market place and not influenced by government restrictions. The survey swings into the field in late November and early December when thousands of farmers and ranchers representing a cross section of the nation's producers will be contacted by USDA representatives. These workers will ask about livestock and poultry currently on farms, expected pig and calf crops, and acreages seeded to winter wheat and rye. Responses are confidential and only state and national estimates will be issued.

Survey results will be available in December for wheat, hogs and poultry; a mid-January sheep publication; and an early February cattle release.

Symphonic band concert Sunday

Good Soldier Schweik Suite by Kurka, Old Wine in New Bottles by Jacobs and Variations on a Medieval Tune by Dello Joio. The Symphonic Band is conducted by Allan R. McMurray. The performance is free, and the public is invited.

Indict Stemmer

Richard Stemmer, 19, of the 600 block of Fleming Place, Mitchell, was indicted by a Madison County grand jury Thursday afternoon on a burglary charge. His bond was set at $10,000.

State may regulate motor vehicle noise

By JOAN MURARO

SPRINGFIELD — If the state Pollution Control Board adopts noise regulations for motor vehicles recently proposed by the Illinois EPA, a whole new numbers game may be initiated.

After Dec. 31, 1975, the driver buying a brand-new car in Illinois might not be so interested in whether it was the "Belchfire 8" model, as whether it was the "Mimidebel 11."

Public hearings still have to be held on the proposed regulations, and the board has the authority to alter or amend them before adoption, but as proposed, they would for the first time require vehicles to have vehicle noise numbers, or maximum sound levels, which could not be exceeded.

Those who have had their sleep shattered, or the baby awakened, by the hot rod or cycle with no muffler, will be happy to hear that another section of the proposed regulations will require that all vehicles now in use have adequate mufflers, which must be maintained, and the muffler designed to increase, instead of muffle noise, would be illegal.

Permissible amounts of noise would be classified by a "dba" system which will range upward from zero, considered to be the lowest sound the ear unaided can hear, such as the rustling of leaves.

Three major areas were studied before the regulations were compiled, according to Dr. Richard H. Brice, chairman of the EPA's task force. They included the extent to which motor vehicle noise affects people's speech, communication and sleep, as well as possible hearing damage and general annoyance, and the technical and economic feasibility of the proposed limits.

Under the dba system, an auto traveling at 35 miles an hour or less would not be permitted to exceed 74 dba, while those going over 35 m.p.h. would have a limit of 82 dba. Trucks weighing more than 24,000 pounds, moving slower than 35 m.p.h., would have a limit of 86 dba, while the same vehicle traveling at more than 35 m.p.h. will have a limit of 90 dba.

Other limits falling between these two would govern buses, motorcycles and medium and lightweight trucks.

These would be enforced primarily by state and local police.

The office of the secretary of state and the Illinois EPA would have chief responsibility for enforcing these sections governing new vehicles, manufactured after Dec. 31, 1975.

On Jan. 1, 1978, even more stringent regulations would go into effect, as new car designs permitting a greater reduction of noise become available.

"Sound is a vital part of our existence," Brice said, "but too often it is just noise that interferes with our speech and sleep and can damage our hearing. Such regulations as we have proposed will give us needed protection."

"I encourage all Illinois citizens to attend these hearings, to become informed concerning how noise affects us and to help in the adoption of the regulations," he concluded.

Tole painting chapter topic

A Tole painting demonstration was given by Karen Machino of the J&J Hobby Shop at a meeting of Xi Theta Omega Chapter, of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in the home of Mrs. Ellen Wilson.

Plans were made for the chapter yuletide party on Dec. 18 at the Levee House in St. Louis. Members also planned to provide a Christmas gift to the Madison County Nursing Home as its holiday service project.

A discussion followed on a hayride held earlier this month for the chapter members and their husbands.

Those attending were Judy Russell, Barbara Dickerson, Pat Chastain, Donna Sprinkle, Mary Jane Wasyak, Julie Gates, Sharon Rush, Linda Pickett, Shirley Fountain, Pat Howard and Carol Davis.

Mrs. Russell invited the group to her home for the next meeting which will feature a wine and cheese tasting program. Each member is to bring a homemade item to be auctioned during the session.

Circle studies church history

Mrs. Woodie Lynn reviewed "Why I Am a Methodist," written by Richard Battle, and "Highlights of Methodist History" at a meeting last week of the Patience Circle held in the parlor of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Members were served lunch in the Pathfinders Room by Mrs. Ethel Lerch, circle leader, followed by the business discussions.

The annual church bazaar, scheduled for Nov. 22, was discussed and Mrs. Lerch said names for circle membership will be selected on Nov. 26. She also noted that several meetings of the women's society will be held four times during the year.

Mrs. Clara Soliroff, 2924 Pershing Ave., will host the next meeting. Dinner will be served honoring those with November birthdays.

Shower honors Diane Niebur

A bridal shower complementing Miss Diane Niebur, a November bride-elect, was given at the VFW Hall by her bridesmaids, Mrs. Jo Marie Markel, Dorothy Konk, Miss Paula Niebur, Carol Loyet and Peggy Jaros and her mother, Mrs. Paul Niebur.

Pink flowers in white milk glass vases centered the tables and were later given as game prizes.

Forty guests attended the party, including the mother of the prospective groom, Mrs. Jo Lafikes of Godfrey.

The honoree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Niebur, 14 Miami Court. She will become the bride of George Lafikes of Godfrey on Nov. 29 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Webster open house Monday

Plans for the annual open house observance at Webster School on Monday were completed at an executive board meeting of the PTA unit.

Clyde Lee, president, presided and presented gifts to Mrs. Ruth Dolosic and Mrs. Irene Filler who served as co-chairmen for the school carnival.

After the meeting, refreshments were served to all who participated in the carnival preparations.

Attending the business session were Kathy Gauen, Nancy Barnes, Paula Depew, Marilyn Frith, Laura Setzer, Sharon and Guy Cooper, Bernada Welby and Lena Setzer.

Fatima Circle 835 plans yule party

Thirty-six members of Our Lady of Fatima Circle 835, Daughters of Isabella, met at the Knights of Columbus Hall and discussed plans for a Christmas party on Dec. 5.

Mrs. Irma Manning, Circle 835 vice-regent, was named chairman of the holiday affair.

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Mary Horvath.

Other newly elected officers introduced at the meeting were Mrs. Martha Kouzsek, banner bearer, and Mrs. Josephine Knezovich, outer guard.

Refreshments were served by Mesdames Irene Argelan, Florence Ashai, Bernada Asperger, Mary Ann Bunk, Dorothy Bridick, Florence Byrne, Trudy Bowman and Miss Ann Acquaviva.

Percy-Scott rift feared

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

The first challenge facing Illinois Republicans in rebuilding the party for the 1976 election is to avoid high-level feuding.

There are already some ominous signs that at a time when unity and cooperation are vital, the GOP may splinter into factions.

Such a development would wreck any hope at all of making a comeback two years from now in what unquestionably will be a tough campaign.

Beneath the Statehouse Dome there is a feeling that if Republicans are to rebound from the Nov. 5 debacle they will have to have the unified leadership of their two top vote-getters, U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy and Atty. Gen. William J. Scott.

This may be difficult to achieve. Relations between Percy and Scott and their partisans have never been good. The two camps in recent years have enjoyed, at best, an uneasy truce.

One still hears arguments about who actually made the best showing in the Republican 1972 triumph when both Scott and Percy won by more than one million votes.

Scott draws his major support from the conservative forces in the Illinois GOP structure, while Percy is the favorite of the moderates. Some pro-Scott conservatives deride Percy as "too liberal."

If an even more serious Percy-Scott split is to be avoided, someone—perhaps

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Nov. 14, 1974 Page 22

State GOP Chairman Don Adams—is going to have to move quickly. The seeds for a great rift are clearly there.

It is certainly no secret at the Statehouse that many Republican leaders, including the Scott forces, resent Percy's pre-election and immediate post-election moves to take the lead in rebuilding the party structures.

There are complaints that Percy was too free with his criticism as to how the campaign was conducted.

There are private insinuations that he is attempting to take over the Illinois "party structure" to strengthen his personal effort to land the 1976 presidential nomination.

The Percy people, however, assert that no Republican leader campaigned harder for the state ticket than Percy and that his efforts were not matched by Scott or the regular state organization.

Both Percy and Adams announced post-election meetings at which various party leaders hopefully will pick up the pieces and start rebuilding for 1976. Whether the two movements can be consolidated remains to be seen. It may well depend on Scott.

One issue already causing discussion among Republicans is whether Adams should remain as chairman or be quietly forced out to make way for a more forceful and creative leader.

The Percy forces appear to be leaning in the direction of a new chairman; the Scott people, perhaps, are more tolerant toward Adams.

Many rank and file Republicans feel it is unfair to place the blame for the Nov. 5 defeat on Adams. They say he took over the party leadership at an exceedingly difficult time and worked hard to stave off the inevitable.

Probably not even a political genius of the stature of a James Farley or George Bliss could have held back the huge tide that engulfed the Illinois GOP on the 1974 election day.

Adams does have good ties with grassroots Republican workers throughout the state, many of whom feel he should be given a chance to exercise the leadership that can bring the party back to contention.

They contend that the recent election did not provide a fair test of his capabilities.

Whether Adams does retain his post will probably depend on how well he does in the days and weeks immediately ahead in bridging the gap between the Percy and Scott forces and wedding a degree of party unity.

It will take all the diplomatic skill of a Henry Kissinger to accomplish this. And the job, like winning the 1974 election, may prove impossible.

One thing is certain: Adams or any other state chairman is going to need the full cooperation of both Percy and Scott if there is to be any chance of regrouping for victory in 1976.

The outnumbered Republicans in Illinois cannot afford any further feuding.

Scholarship on city managing

The Illinois City Management Association and the Chicago Metropolitan City Management Association will award a $1,000 scholarship to a college student who plans to enter the field of public administration.

Elwood Buchanan, staff assistant in the Student Work and Financial Assistance office at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, said preference will be given to students who are residents of Illinois, express a desire to enter the field of city management, and can demonstrate a need for financial assistance.

The scholarship will be available for the calendar year 1975. Deadline for making application is Dec. 1, 1974. The $1,000 cash award may be divided among more than one applicant if it is determined that it would be more beneficial to provide assistance to more than one student.

Persons interested in applying for the scholarship may send a letter and a brief resume to: Leslie T. Allen, City Manager, 707 East Wood St., Decatur, Ill. 62523 or phone (217) 424-2801. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the SIUE Student Work and Financial Assistance office.

Effort to curb noise

An effort to reduce the noise caused by switching of railroad cars in the Terminal Railroad yards at Venice was initiated by the Venice City Council Tuesday night at the request of Second Ward Alderman Hank Svezia.

Svezia said he had received numerous complaints from residents living in the vicinity of the yards, asking that some action be taken.

Mayor William Ebersoldt said he will write to officials of the railroad requesting their cooperation in reducing noise at the yards. He also instructed City Attorney Harry E. Hartman to determine what legal recourse the city may have if the railroad fails to cooperate.

The council in other action, approved the hiring of the Luster Wrecking and Excavating Co. to demolish and clear nine structures at a cost of $12,685 to be paid after completion of the job and approval of the city building inspector.

The properties to be demolished are located at 108 Douglas St., 1221 Calhoun St., 117 rear Hampden St., 504 Jefferson Ave., 444 Lincoln Ave., 816 rear Lincoln Ave., 203 Ashbrook St., and two structures at 1508 Market St.

"We will be doing everything we possibly can to make our city a cleaner and nicer place to live and we hope all the people will cooperate with us," Third Ward Alderman John Ervin said in outlining the demolition and clean-up program.

Alderman Oscar King said, "We need to do something about raising our stop signs. They are all too low. Superintendent of Streets Jay Maurer has been notified, but nothing has been done yet."

Mayor Ebersoldt asked the street and alley committee to check into the matter right away so that the situation can be corrected.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Nov. 14, 1974 Page 23

In other business, the council accepted and placed on file an Illinois Department of Transportation Motor Fuel Tax audit which said that city records and accounts are being kept in proper order.

The council approved $55 in expenses for Hartman to attend a law seminar in Chicago Nov. 22. The amount represents one third of the cost of the trip, the other two thirds being shared by other government bodies Hartman represents.

A letter was read from the Venice Senior Citizens inviting the mayor and city officials to attend the group's Christmas party to be held at 5 p.m. Dec. 17 in the Venice Recreation Center.

Jack Toliver, city engineer, reported that work on the Broadway relocation project is about four weeks behind schedule. He said that plans call for the pouring of 20,000 yards of concrete on the west side of the highway within the next six weeks.

The council approved a building permit for Leonard Matthews, 421 Weaver St., to build a garage at the cost of $1,000.

Alderman Thomas Vogele introduced Dr. Arthur Saladin, a surgeon from Aruba, an island of the Netherlands Antilles off the coast of Venezuela.

Dr. Saladin and his wife Jeanette (Vuurman) who is from Venice, are visiting here for two weeks. Dr. Saladin said he was impressed by the sincere way the City Council in Venice did its work for the benefit of all the people.

Course for educators

"Piaget and Pooh" is the title of a two-day short course which will be offered to area educators Nov. 19 and 20 at the New City School in St. Louis by the area teachers' center project of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Charles D. Smock, professor of psychology at the University of Georgia and director of the Follow Through and Mathemagics projects at Georgia, will conduct the course.

Sessions will be held from 4 until 6 p.m. each day. Smock also will be available from 1 to 3 p.m. each day to meet informally with participants. The school is located at 485 Lake Ave. in St. Louis.

The course is an expansion of Smock's recent article in "Psychology Today," dealing with the findings of Jean Piaget, a Swiss psychologist, and A. A. Milne, author of "Winnie the Pooh," concerning the growth of thinking in young children.

Smock recently was a senior research fellow at the Institute of Educational Sciences, University of Geneva.

The short course is one of several such courses scheduled for the 1974-75 school year by the teachers' center project.

Other courses will be given by Max S. Bell, University of Chicago; Marion Walter, Children's Hospital, Boston; Mrs. Dora E. Whitaker, Schools Council, London; and Kenneth Lovell, Institute of Education, University of Leeds.

The St. Louis Area Teachers' Center also involves collaborative work by teachers in regular meetings each Thursday from 4 to 6:30 p.m. at the Hanley Road Church.

Steals auto, eludes police

A policeman in a squad car noticed an auto stopped on 29th Street in the North Granite City area at 3:05 a.m. Wednesday and stopped to ask the driver if he needed assistance.

The driver told the officer he was having trouble with his car's headlights, but did not require assistance. The policeman left, but requested the police station to run a routine check on the auto's license number.

The check showed it belonged to Art Branch, 2301 W. 23rd St. Branch was called and asked if he knew where his auto was. Branch said he thought it was parked in front of his house.

When told it was on 29th Street, he said he had not given anyone permission to take the car.

The officer in the squad car was notified the auto was stolen and returned to 29th Street, but the auto was gone.

"TIME TO RUN," a new film by the Billy Graham Association, now showing at the Washington theatre, portrays a mixture of problems and solutions of today, and is well worth seeing, according to Rev. Alfred Slaver, pastor of Calvary Baptist church. Discussing plans Tuesday for opening night are, from left, Miss Kathryn L. Smith, of Suburban Baptist Church; Charles Michael, co-ordinator of World Wide pictures; Christ Pashoff, assisting with arrangements for the special engagement, and Ronald O. Marr of Suburban Baptist Church who is co-ordinating the activities. The picture opened last night and will be shown through Tuesday. (Press-Record Photo)

85 at GCS Women's Thanksgiving event

"Coping With Change" was the topic of Dr. Leonard W. Van Camp, a faculty member at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, who spoke Tuesday evening at the November meeting of the Granite City Steel Women's Association.

A traditional Thanksgiving dinner of roast turkey, dressing and appropriate trimmings was served to 85 members.

Dr. Van Camp, associate professor in the Fine Arts Department at SIUE, focused his remarks on the concepts explored in the book, "Future Shock."

Theme of the dinner meeting was "The First Thanksgiving." An arrangement of fall flowers with pumpkins situated on either side centered the main table. The guest tables were decorated with orange and brown placemats and napkins and polished pumpkins. Candy corn in nutcrackers were placed as favors.

In charge of the November program were Tina Brubaker, Ann Holson and Lana Watson. Mrs. Peggy Solberger, president, conducted the business session and reports were presented by the officers. Membership in the club now totals 120 women, it was announced.

Prizes in the social hour were awarded to Marilyn Harris, Shirley Schwendemann, Jo Ann Bauer, Juanita Stajduhar, Mildred Hess, Frieda Riecken and Helene Bischoff. Contributing gifts were Charlotte's Flowers, Ferd's Flowers, Willis Florist, Rose Bowl Flowers, Herring Florists, Champion's Gift Shop and Daily's Paint & Wallpaper.

The next meeting will be combined with a Christmas party on Dec. 10, Mrs. Solberger announced.

REV. JOHN COLLIER
Evangelist

Evangelist at Central Baptist

The Rev. John Collier, an evangelist and camp foreman at the Bill Rice Ranch in Murfreesboro, Tenn., will be the featured speaker from Wednesday, Nov. 20, through Sunday, Nov. 24, at Central Baptist Church, 3910 Highway 111, according to Rev. John Lamb, pastor.

Services will begin each night at 7:30. The Rev. Collier also will preach at the Sunday morning and evening services.

The evangelist, a native of Texas, attended high school in Garland, Tex. After completing his education and ministry training, he became a youth pastor in Garland.

In the spring of 1973, the Rev. Collier joined the 36-member staff at the Bill Rice Ranch, where he and his wife, Virginia, and son, Winn, now reside.

The ranch not only maintains America's largest independent youth camp, but is headquarters for the world's largest missionary work to the deaf, the Rev. Collier said.

Garden Study aids Lincoln Gardens

Garden Study Club members agreed to contribute funds to the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Gardens, Springfield, at their meeting Wednesday.

Mrs. G. W. Stearns served a dessert luncheon to 10 members.

In the business session, conducted by Mrs. Wilmer Winter, a district event in Lebanon was reviewed by several who attended. Mrs. C. E. Eads was appointed club secretary, replacing Mrs. E. H. Theis who resigned.

Wayne Seifert, area extension advisor on horticulture, presented a program on trees, illustrating his topic with colored slides.

Sponsors of the Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club reported the young people planted bulbs at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home earlier this month.

Also at the meeting were Mesdames W. G. Cooley, Robert Briggs, David Maxton, Delbert McKissick, Bonard Maples, Arthur Roman and John Sigite.

BURGLARY ON DAWN
A shotgun, a pistol, jewelry, a knife and a watch, worth a total of about $237, were stolen from the home of David L. Huffstutler, 2208 Dawn Place. It was reported at 9:25 p.m. Monday.

We wish to express special appreciation to Dr. Lay, St. Elizabeth Hospital, who helped them to Merced ambulance driver, Father Ryan at Cardinal Glennon Hospital, the kindest man and kindliest nurse, and all who aided our son there. Special thanks to Father Hill of Sacred Heart Church and all who kindly assisted in the Mass for Eric. To the children and teachers from Prather, Grigsby and Coolidge Schools. Our very special thanks to Mr. Frank Mercer and all the kind people at Mercer Mortuary. 32 11 14

In Memoriam 33

In memory of MYRTLE DAVIS who passed away her reward, Nov. 14, 1974. A flower was added to that heavenly bouquet, when God called to take "our Myrt" today. We think of her both day and night, her memory lingers on, she's not in sight. She was a jolly person, this little lady we shared. Someone for whom everyone cared. Her smile is best remembered by her Lord and loved ones in the sky. (Written by Granddaughter, Carla Leoni)

Sadly missed by the family 33 11 14

In loving memory of CHARLES BIRKERS who passed away one year ago Nov. 13, 1973. I have lost my life's companion. A life linked with my own. And every day I miss him more. As I walk through life alone. No one knows the silent heartaches. Only those who have lost can tell. Of the grief I bear in silence. For the one I loved so well. Sadly missed by—Wife HAZEL BROOKS, SON and FAMILY. 33 11 14

Sales tax big fund source for states

By MAURICE W. SCOTT
Executive Vice President
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Sales and related use taxes are an important source of revenue for the states, with Illinois' 1975 fiscal budget counting on a minimum of $1.375 billion from this source.

With the rates for the states ranging from a low of 2 percent in Oklahoma to a high of 6 percent in Connecticut—the state rate in Illinois is 4 percent—many states have in recent years granted sales and use tax exemptions on sales and uses of food and drugs.

Some states have been restrictive in their food exemptions, restricting the exemptions to food for human consumption off the premises where sold, to food sold only to senior citizens, to meals served by educational institutions, to food which may be purchased with federal food stamps and to limited purchases made through vending machines.

Most states exclude from such exemptions sales of candy, confectioneries, alcoholic beverages and soft drinks.

In most instances, drug exemptions are limited to prescription medicines, to sales to persons 65 years of age or older, and to medicines prescribed by certain practitioners.

The following states grant broad sales and use tax exemptions for food and food products: Arizona (effective July 1, 1975, if approved by voters), California, Connecticut, Florida, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Texas, Vermont and Wisconsin.

The states making sales and use tax exemptions for prescription drugs are: Alabama (only drugs sold to persons 65 years of age or older), Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, the District of Columbia, Florida (prescriptions and non-prescriptions), Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland (all medicines), Massachusetts, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Did you know that you were helping to pay the interest on a pretty big debt?

The federal debt, approximately $487.1 billion at the end of fiscal 1974, carries an interest tag of about $31 billion in the current fiscal year.

Before you reach for the aspirin, the interest on the federal debt has almost tripled in the last 10 years.

On a per American family basis, the $31 billion interest figure is equal to a $429 annual bill, and to 17 cents of every dollar collected in federal individual and corporate income taxes.

Plan U.S.-Israel science research

The National Science Foundation has announced, on behalf of the U. S.-Israel Binational Science Foundation, a program of cooperative scientific research and activities, according to the Office of Research and Projects of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The program includes cooperative research projects of mutual interest to the United States and Israel concerned with scientific and technological changes for peaceful purposes. John Rodman, coordinator of the SIUE Office of Research and Projects, said both basic and applied research will be considered, as well as programs dealing with scientific and technological information.

Rodman also announced that fellowships are available for research in the fields of biophysics, biochemistry, general biology, theoretical biology and macromolecular science at the Weizmann Institute in Israel. Candidates from all countries are eligible for 12-month appointments.

Additional information about both programs is available at the Office of Research and Projects, Room 2202, General Office Building, SIUE.

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY was the topic of Sam Urban, representative of the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA) as he spoke at a meeting Friday at the YMCA under the sponsorship of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. Rhetoric but few solutions for fighting hunger in world

While there has been some progress at the World Food Conference in Rome, much remains to be done if a worldwide plan to fight hunger is to be established.

This is the view of Harold B. Steele, Illinois Farm Bureau president, who attended the conference.

Commenting on activities thus far in Rome, Steele advised the Press-Record that the proceedings primarily have been "rhetoric."

He said, "It is like when you buy a new tractor and take it out the first day; it may spit and sputter, and you have to hit it tuned up."

Steele added, "There has been a lot of sputtering at the conference and now there will have to be a tune-up period. The various nations are in committee work right now and, hopefully, from these committees will come a concept that will help meet the demands ahead," Steele said.

The Farm Bureau leader said it would be a misconception to believe that all of the developing nations at the food conference are "looking for a handout."

He said he was impressed with the presentation made by the Sudanese government in which it outlined an ambitious program to increase food production in the Sudan.

Unfortunately, said Steele, there are many nations which have used the food conference as a forum to their political ideologies but have not presented any solutions for combatting world hunger.

Steele, along with Dr. Dale E. Butz, executive director of the Illinois Farm Bureau commodities division, and Merrill Anderson, president of the Iowa

Reading conference at SIUE

The 10th annual Reading Conference sponsored by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be held Saturday, Nov. 23, from 7:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on the SIUE campus.

The conference traditionally attracts an attendance of 1,200 to 1,500 educators from the southwestern region of Illinois and the St. Louis area.

The theme of this year's conference will be, "Differences That Make a Difference in Reading."

The keynote speaker will be Edward Frieson of the Learning Center at Nashville, Tenn. He will address the general session which begins at 11:45 a.m.

The co-chairmen announced that 20 panel discussion groups will be featured in two morning sessions, with consultants leading each group. The sessions will be repeated, enabling each conferee to participate in several interest groups. The first session will begin at 9 a.m. and the second at 10:20 a.m.

Subjects are scheduled for discussion at four levels:

Primary level—classroom diagnosis of reading difficulties, adapting the basal reader to an individualized program, help center for a tape deck and turntable, and has plenty of power to drive a pair of full-range, high efficiency Johnson speakers for a room full of sound! And we've added a Glenburn changer, complete with cue, pause, anti-skip controls and a Shure magnetic cartridge.

Concord CR-50 Stereo Receiver $119.95
Glenburn 2110 Changer $4.50
Base, Cover and Shure M-75 Cartridge (incl. Shure SF-40 Speakers) 79.95
Total List Price $124.35

Intermediate level—effective grouping strategies, multilevel materials for reading, teaching reading with a basal reader, learning centers and reading, comprehension strategies, classroom management of reading disabilities, motivational strategies for reading, and using creative activities in reading.

Secondary level—programs emphasizing reading as a process in secondary schools, and critical reading and thinking as a reading skill in secondary schools.

Special areas—aides in the reading program, and strategies for improving teacher and student attitudes toward learning.

Registration for the conference will be in the lobby of the University Center. Exhibits will be on the second floor of the center. Discussion groups are scheduled in the Peck Building, and the general session will be held in the center's Meridian Hall.

Mobile meals program grows

This week 28 sick, shut-in or handicapped persons will receive hot meals prepared at St. Elizabeth Hospital and delivered to the homes by volunteers from some 35 churches, civic and fraternal organizations. This total represents the highest daily total since the inception of the Mobile Meals program three years ago.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors at the offices of the Protestant Welfare Association, Jesse Brown was appointed to replace Mrs. Clara Schilling as coordinator of the volunteers. Mrs. Schilling served in this capacity as a nonpaid volunteer for over three years.

In other action the board of directors voted to replace the electrically-heated mobile ovens with a light-weight, thermo, picnic-type basket. The new baskets the food retains its heat for two to three hours.

Chairman Rev. Paul Surbey suggested that all senior citizens groups become acquainted with the nutritional program, perhaps by appointing a special clerk-committee to make referrals of members who need this service.

The first step is to call Catholic Charities at 877-1194. A professional staff person will call at the recipient's home, determine the need and the extent of their ability to pay, and through the person's physician, receive a recommended diet sheet.

Members of organizations, churches or fraternal groups who would like to serve as volunteers, delivering one route of meals five days a week, once every three to four months, may contact Mrs. Marie Whittle at

North Madrigals to present Yule opera

The Christmas Opera, "Amah! and the Night Visitors," will be presented by the Granite City High School North Madrigals on Thursday, Nov. 21, at 8 p.m. in the GCHS South auditorium under the direction of Mrs. Gail E. Mueller.

The story of Amah! takes place somewhere in the Middle East, where a crippled boy named Amah! and his mother, a very poor widow, live. The boy and his mother have nothing to eat and no hope for a better tomorrow. Three wise men, on their way to Bethlehem, stop at Amah!'s house and ask to stay for the night.

When Amah!'s mother realizes that all the wealth the Kings carry with them is for a newborn baby, she becomes bitter and fails to understand why some of these gifts cannot go to her poor sickly child.

While the three kings are asleep, she steals some of the gold and she caught Amah! impulsively offers his crutch as a gift and in doing so is miraculously cured of his lameness.

The kings, realizing her reasons, forgive her and explain that the child they seek doesn't need their gold, but lives on love of his fellow man. Touched by their words, the mother returns the gold and wishes she had a gift to offer the child. Amah! impulsively offers his crutch as a gift and in doing so is miraculously cured of his lameness.

As dawn breaks, the three kings resume their journey, and Amah! joins them so that he may give thanks to the Christ child.

Tom Wilkerson will be the pianist for the evening and Carolyn Goldschick will play the oboe solo.

The sets for the production were created by William J. Smoltz and built by David Culp and Smoltz.

Tickets are on sale by all North vocal music students. The cost of tickets in advance are 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults. At the door ticket prices will be 75 cents for students and $1 for adults.

The cast of "Amah!" is as follows: Amah! is played by Dave Harrison, his mother by Deanna Blaylock, King Kasper by Bill Patterson, King Melchior by Brian Chastain, King Balthazar by Nick Popichak, and The Page by John Verschuyt.

The shepherds and villagers are Kim Barr, Jim Belling, Dave Edgington, Kathy Elvins, Beccy Flanagan, Jeff Gibson, Allen Harris, Kathy McCann, Carolyn Mibu, and Brenda Wadlow.

Corporations neglecting to file state reports to be dissolved

By MARY LOU MANNING

Press-Record
Springfield Bureau
Come Dec. 1, Illinois stands to lose somewhere near 15,000 of its corporations.

That's the approximate number of for-profit corporations within the state that will be involuntarily dissolved for failure to pay annual franchise taxes and file an annual report. They have until this date to rectify the delinquency.

Up until this year, Secretary of State Michael Howlett, who is responsible for collecting the taxes, had to take the delinquent corporations to court.

However, a new law was passed in 1973, effective July 1, 1974. It gives him authority to involuntarily dissolve the corporations without court action.

The taxes were due July 31, and on Aug. 30 about 22,000 warnings were sent out.

"If the delinquent corporations do not pay the franchise taxes and file the report by Dec. 1, they will cease to exist," reports Norm Crane, chief of the secretary's corporation division.

To become reinstated, a corporation must file application, pay all penalties and back franchise taxes and file the annual report. In addition, a $100 reinstatement fee must be paid.

Franchise taxes range from $1 million to $25 annually, according to Crane.

"As of the end of October, we had collected $66,000 more in franchise taxes than we did for the same period last year," he said.

The division collected nearly $25 million in franchise taxes in 1973.

Taxes are collected for the period July 1-June 30. At the present time, there are 143,274 corporations on the secretary's rolls.

The secretary of state, by law, is responsible for the issuance of corporate charters and certificates of authority.

There are presently two corporation offices, one in Springfield and one in Chicago.

State compares car insurance coverage, issues 'buyer guide'

Acting Illinois Insurance Director Robert B. Wilcox has announced the availability of the department's "1974 Buyer's Guide to Automobile Insurance," first in a series that also will cover accident and health, homeowners-tenants and life insurance.

"I believe this series, simply designed and written in plain English," Wilcox said, "will be the most complete, educational and effective guide in the purchase of insurance available in any state."

"I am pleased to implement these tools for consumer education which were conceived during Red Mauck's directorship."

Gov. Dan Walker said, "This is an excellent start toward helping people understand insurance. With this guide, they can compare not only insurance but the stability of different companies."

"This administration," the governor added, "is oriented toward helping people, and these Buyers Guides are another means of making sure people get the service they deserve from the government."

The 28-page two-color automobile Buyers Guide includes:

—A listing of the 321 companies writing passenger automobile insurance in Illinois, and the location of each company's home office.

The list compares premium costs and relative financial strength of the companies and indicates geographic availability of coverages. The list provides a graphic illustration of how comparative shopping for automobile insurance can pay off. Wilcox said.

For example, the annual premium for the "typical driver" and his "typical policy" ranges from $188 to $794 in Northwest Chicago, $133 to $570 in Hinsdale and $115 to $455 in Decatur, depending on the company chosen.

—A glossary of insurance terms.

—And a worksheet to help the consumer make shopping comparisons.

The "average" insurance rates used for comparison in the guide are for "Charley Jones," a 34-year-old married male driver, with no accidents or traffic violations in the last five years.

He drives eight miles each way to and from work every day in a 1973 Chevrolet Impala with air conditioning. A graphically reproduced worksheet illustrates Jones' coverage.

The rates, provided by the companies in response to a department request, are for the lowest amount of liability available in Illinois ($10,000-20,000 bodily injury, $5,000 property damage—a "10-20-5" policy, plus 10-20 uninsured motorists coverage).

Jones also has $500 medical payments, $100 deductible collision and actual cash value (ACV) comprehensive coverage.

"The guide," Wilcox continued, gives a financial rating for each company.

The ratings reflect the "General Policyholders'

MR. AND MRS. TERRY SERWATKA, whose wedding took place at Holy Rosary Church in Fairmont City. The bride is the former Miss Phyllis Ann Wampler, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Jr. Wampler of Robinson, Ill.

Phyllis A. Wampler and Terry Serwatka are wed

Miss Phyllis Ann Wampler, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Jr. Wampler, 106 Highsmith St., Robinson, Ill., and Terry John Serwatka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Serwatka, 5308 N. 61st St., East St. Louis, formerly of Madison, were united in marriage on Nov. 2 at Holy Rosary Church in Fairmont City.

Blue and white satin bows marked the pews and bouquets of blue tipped mums and greenery adorned the altar for the double ring ceremony, performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by the Rev. Lloyd Misho.

Miss Helen Harper of Fairmont City presided at the organ and played "On This Day," "How Great Thou Art" and "Theme from Romeo and Juliet." Miss Donna Smith of Terre Haute, Ind., sang "First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," "Wedding Song" and The Lord's Prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Wampler escorted their daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She chose a gown of ivory chiffon over taffeta designed with an accordion pleated bodice, accented with Venice lace and ribbon, and pleated bishop sleeves.

Venise lace encircled the semi-full skirt and chapel train. She wore a lace Juliet cap etched with pearls to secure a mantilla veil, bordered with ivory lace, and she carried a Bible used by her mother on her wedding day. White rosebuds and baby breath topped the Bible.

Maid of honor Miss Janice Wampler, a sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Misses Kathy Gullett, Cheryl Gullett, cousins of the bride, Sheila Kuback, Lynn Serwatka, Cindy Balcher, the groom's cousins, and Mrs. Brenda Janik, were dressed alike.

Their formal length gowns were fashioned with sapphire velvet bodices. Open crepe collars edged with lace created the V-necklines and bishop sleeves of velvet with crepe cuffs ended in a lace ruffle.

The softly gathered skirts were made of blue crepe. Each attendant wore a dark blue velvet headband to match her attire and held a colonial bouquet of blue tipped carnations.

Kelly Raski, a cousin of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a frock identical to the adult attendants' dresses and held a nosegay of blue blossoms.

Steven Raski, the groom's cousin, served as ringbearer. The groom chose his brother, Jerry Serwatka, as best man. Rick Raski, Fred McCauley, John Gavlick, Paul Urban, Rich Niedzwiecki, Dennis Janik, Stephen Janik and Frankie Gavlick, all cousins of the groom, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Wampler, mother of the bride, selected a long blue polyester gown made with a V-neckline, long sleeves and a pleated skirt, complemented with silver accessories.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Serwatka, appeared in a full length gown featuring a candlelight bodice with a high neckline and long sleeves, and a pink crepe skirt. Both wore corsages of white roses and baby breath.

A reception was held at the Croatian Hall in Madison in the evening. The rehearsal dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents.

The bride graduated from Lincoln Trail Junior College, in Robinson. Her husband, a graduate of Assumption High School, East St. Louis, is employed as a crane operator at Granite City Steel.

They are now residing in Collinsville.

STOLEN FROM AUTO

An eight-track tape player, valued at $40, and six tapes, worth $10, were stolen from a locked auto belonging to Anthony Hunt, 3908 Kirkpatrick Homes, he reported at 7:35 a.m. Sunday.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT WIGGINS. They were united in marriage at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. She is the former Miss Judith L. Morris, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion "Budd" Morris, 2440 Waterman Ave.

Judith Morris becomes Mrs. Robert Wiggins

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding on Oct. 25 of Miss Judith L. Morris, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion "Budd" Morris, 2440 Waterman Ave., and Robert E. Wiggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Wiggins, 2365 Clark Ave.

Large bouquets of white mums and purple asters, intermingled with baby breath, decorated the altar and white satin bows marked the family pews. Burning tapers in branched candelabra illuminated the white carpeted aisle.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence Mattingly, St. Elizabeth pastor, and the Rev. William Foster, pastor of Nameoki United Methodist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7 p.m.

Nuptial selections included "Colour My World," "First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," "Wedding Song" and "Sunrise, Sunset." The soloist, Barbara Schmitz, was accompanied by Beth Ledbetter at the organ.

Allen Bogovich presided at the electric piano and sang "Lord Make Me an Instrument of Thy Peace."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Morris chose a white marcelaine jersey gown made in Empire style with a round neckline, traced with Guipure lace and embellished with seed pearls, and long tapered sleeves.

The jeweled lace accented the waistline, and the softly flowing skirt, cascading into a cathedral train, was appliqued with lace motifs.

A lace camelot headpiece secured her cathedral length veil, enhanced with lace appliques, and she held a bouquet of white Sweetheart roses, stephanotis, baby breath, English ivy and purple statice.

The bridesmaids were gowned alike in purple velvet. Their full length dresses were designed with Empire bodices featuring V-necklines bordered with white tulle lace.

Matching lace edged the short puff sleeves and encircled the A-line skirts. They carried bouquets of white crystal pompe, pink roses, baby breath, English ivy and purple statice. Serving as honor attendant was Miss Paula Mathis. The bridesmaids were Miss Laurie Morris, a sister of the bride, Miss Marcie Elverwine and Miss Janet Wiggins, the groom's sister.

Shelly Bridges, the flower girl, wore a white velvet frock trimmed with purple lace. She carried a basket of rose petals. Richard Moore, a cousin of the groom, served as best man. Larry Kenison, Barry Loman and Steve Ashby were groomsmen.

Tim Moore, the groom's cousin, Ernie Morris, a cousin of the bride, and John Morris, the bride's brother, seated the guests.

A cousin of the groom, Kevin Worniak, was the ringbearer. Karen Wiese and Anita Honok registered guests at a reception given at Croatian Hall in Madison.

Members of the wedding party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner at Tempel's Smorgasbord.

The bride is a Granite City High School graduate and attended Washington University, Western Illinois University and Lewis and Clark Community College. She is now employed as a secretary at Triangle Heating Co.

A 1972 graduate of Granite City High School, the groom also attended Western Illinois University and Lewis and Clark Community College. He will resume his studies in January at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

They are now residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to Colorado.

Home Economics

About 20 per cent of our total energy and 30 per cent of our electric energy output is consumed in the home. The key to saving this energy is the efficient use of appliances.

Your hot water heater accounts for about 15 per cent of your utility bill. Surprisingly, perhaps, much less hot water is needed to wash dishes by machine than by hand.

But make sure your dishwasher is completely loaded. Each time it is used, and whenever possible run it at night when there is less demand for electricity.

Electric skillets, toasters, waffle irons, electric grills, popcorn poppers, electric fondue, bean pots and coffee pots use less electricity than your range does on the same jobs. For instance, it costs three times as much to toast bread in an oven as in a pop-up toaster. But be sure to turn all appliances off when you finish using them.

For all gas appliances, a switch-operated electric starter could be substituted for continuous burning pilot lights. At least 10 per cent of the natural gas consumed goes to keep pilot lights burning.

When you do have pilot lights, make sure they are properly adjusted.

If you are considering buying a new refrigerator, remember a multi-door refrigerator-freezer lets less cold air escape each time a door is opened. A frost-free refrigerator requires 50 per cent more energy to operate than a standard model.

Defrost your freezer or freezing compartment when frost is about one-quarter-inch thick. Frost decreases efficiency, and your refrigerator or freezer works harder to maintain the same temperature.

If you have a no-frost or self-defrosting refrigerator, examine the condensate drain to make sure it's clean. A prolonged blockage will cause ice to build up on the coils and impair the unit's operation. Periodically clean the condenser coils in the back of the unit. New refrigerator models put the condenser coils beneath the unit. To clean, you remove the front grill and vacuum.

Before you open the refrigerator, stop and think of what you will need before you open the door. Then, take out all the things you need for the meal or snack and close the door.

New trends in communications

"Little things Mean a Lot," was the title of a talk by Rotarian Thomas Rich, manager of the local telephone office, at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Granite City Rotary club in the YMCA.

The effects of the development of the translator on the communications systems were explained to the club as Rich demonstrated by taped telephone calls, the improved transoceanic messages of today by use of the satellite, in lieu of the cables of a few years ago.

The telephone company has developed new computer type equipment with electronic switching systems that are several times faster than the present methods, he said.

Rich explained that in the near future a call waiting system will be in use. This system notifies a person when talking on the phone, by a simple "beep" sound, that someone else is trying to reach them, and would allow a person to put the party to whom they are talking on "hold" to check the incoming call.

Also in the near future is a call-forwarding system, whereby calls automatically may be transferred from a person's home or office to anywhere they are that has a telephone, Rich said.

"Voice prints" also will be in use in the near future. It has been discovered that each person has a distinctive voice which can be electronically recorded. A person calling a bank to transact business could be quickly verified as to identity by the voice print.

Rich had on display several models of telephones that were available to the public, from antique models to modern highly decorative and compact models.

After impact, Fritts' south-bound auto crossed the north-bound lanes and went onto the lawn of the Granite City Post Office and into a post and the front roof cover, damaging both.

Saudi Arabia: Study in contrasts

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
The legendary Arabian Nights fairytales hardly apply today to the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, a rapidly developing country of vast oil resources, air conditioning and fast automobiles, but with a culture firmly entrenched in the centuries-old Islamic Law.

In the principal cities, such as Jiddah, Riyadh and Mecca, bumper to bumper traffic travels along broad thoroughfares, jet aircraft scream overhead and modern supermarkets offer major U.S. name-brand frozen foods at discount prices.

Construction of a proposed rapid transit system virtually is assured within a few years in a Kingdom where public executions are held each Friday near a centrally located city hall or courthouse.

Saudi Arabia is a land of contrasting elements, occupying an area about the size of the United States east of the Mississippi.

Michael Misaeldis, 3917 Village Lane, recently returned from Saudi Arabia after completing a feasibility study to analyze and project development and resource needs through 1999, principally in the area of transportation.

Results of the study are contained in a proposal recommending future investment policies by the Saudi Arabian government in developing and improving transportation links into regions of economic growth and establishing development priorities.

Misaeldis is senior transport economist for Syntex International, Inc., of Los Altos, Calif., a private company.

Through contractual services, the firm undertakes analyses of various systems for MICHAEL MISAELDIS wearing a 'ghutra,' the traditional Arab headress which can be closed to protect the face against blowing sand.

U.S. government agencies, foreign governments and the World Bank and projects future investment procedures.

Ethiopian by birth, educated in Greece and the United States, Misaeldis is now a U.S. citizen. He is married to the former Teckla Rydgig of Madison, who worked for a U.S. government agency in the Middle-Eastern country of Yemen some time ago.

"Saudi Arabia is developing very fast," Misaeldis said. "There is no question that money and resources are available, but the few skilled and semi-skilled workers among the populace create the problems."

King Faysal Bin Abdul Aziz has brought improved living standards to Saudi Arabia; a strong emphasis on education and a deeper thrust into the mainstream of world commerce, he said.

Free compulsory education and free student health care at all academic levels is available. More and more schools are being built everywhere you go, Misaeldis said.

Transportation to school is free and starting this year all kindergarten through secondary students are receiving a daily meal without cost.

Noting that Saudi Arabia is one nation without need of outside financial aid, Misaeldis said the 1974-75 national budget is $94 billion for a population of seven million.

In comparison, the U.S. budget for the same period is $180 billion for a population of 210 million, less than twice the sum for a population 30 times larger.

Under King Faysal's rule the country has achieved tremendous progress from the economic and social standpoints. Unlike King Saud Bin Al-Aziz, his brother and predecessor, Faysal lives a comparatively quiet lifestyle, Misaeldis said.

Although under Islamic Law he is allowed four wives, King Faysal has only one and resides in a relatively small palace. The former king retained the harem custom, and his vast palace reportedly was equipped with 400 air conditioning units.

Until oil was discovered in the late 1930's, Saudi Arabia had changed little since Biblical times. A country that existed in almost complete isolation from the outside world was transformed within two decades into a nation with jet airports, television stations and diesel trucks in place of camels.

Such rapid transformation took its toll and easy money pouring into the country from oil royalties often was mismanaged. Until Faysal was proclaimed king in November 1964, a series of chaotic financial conditions and strained relations with neighboring countries plagued the nation.

Although colleges and universities, plus technical training schools, now are functioning in Saudi Arabia, most students continue to seek their higher education abroad, many in the United States, Misaeldis noted.

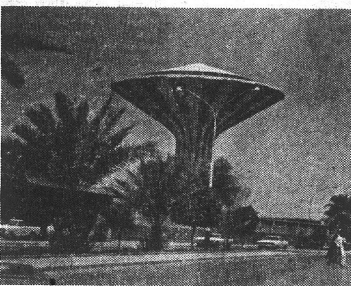

Tuition and living expenses are paid for by the state and many students return home to work in the government ministries.

The Arabian American Oil Co. (ARAMCO), a consortium of major oil firms, such as Sinclair, Texaco and Standard among others, continues to send many Saudi Arabian subjects overseas to be trained for top managerial positions. ARAMCO also operates its own training centers.

Each year between three and four million pilgrims flock to Mecca, the birthplace of the prophet Mohammed, religious capital of the country and sacred city for all Muslims, Misaeldis said.

The subway or rapid transit system included in the feasibility study would transport the pilgrims from Jiddah's international airport to Mecca, about 70 miles away.

In Mecca itself, a new hotel is under construction. Designed and engineered by European architects who are forbidden to enter the holy city, the actual construction is being accomplished by native workmen under "long distance supervision," Misaeldis said.

FUTURISTIC WATER TOWER in Riyadh is typical of many transformations taking place in Saudi Arabia. A restaurant circles the upper rim of the tower, affording a magnificent view of the city.

UNCHANGED since Biblical days are the narrow streets and sunbaked dwellings in a Bedouin village. Outward appearances frequently are deceptive, however. Around the corner at right, a Mercedes Benz automobile, worth over $14,000, was parked.

The Great Mosque of Mecca, which dominates most of the city and dates back to the 10th century, has been enlarged to accommodate more than 300,000 pilgrims, he noted.

Desalination plants to transform sea water for irrigation purposes and drinking are among the major construction programs underway in the Kingdom where water resources are practically non-existent.

Despite temperatures of 130 degrees in the summer months, Misaeldis said humidity is very low except in the coastal region, and he seldom perspired. Most buildings and homes in the cities are fully air conditioned. In contrast, he said, temperatures in the winter season drop to nearly the zero level.

Arabic, a Semitic language related to Hebrew and Aramaic, is spoken throughout the country. There are local dialects, but these are minor and do not prevent people from different areas understanding each other.

Misaeldis, who speaks Arabic among other languages, said Arabic is a rich language and notes there are 200 variations for the word "horse." The written language is cursive, written in flowing, rounded and connected characters and is read from right to left. English is the principal foreign language used.

"The Saudi Arabians are a sincere, hospitable people, generous in their homes and easy going," he said.

The woman's role remains subdued as women still are considered inferior, wearing veils in public and at home in the presence of strangers.

Marriages continue to be arranged by parents and often couples see each other for the first time during the wedding ceremony. A move by the educated younger generation, however, is growing to break this custom and choose their own mate, he said.

Justice is strict and punishment is swift, Misaeldis noted, explaining that beatings for certain types of crimes or death by firing squad are carried out each Friday in a public place.

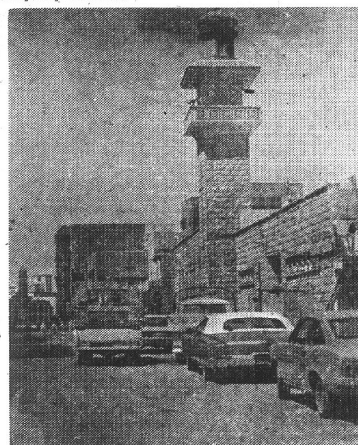

The hands of thieves are amputated which probably accounts for the fact that one's possessions are left untouched in an unlocked car or hotel room, he said. Merchants carry their day's receipts through the busy streets in opaque sacks and remain unmolested.

In the bazaars one can see camel saddles, ancient muskets, aromatic woods and holy water alongside souvenirs of Mecca made in Japan and Persian prayer rugs made in Italy.

A few donkeys along with cars of every type fight the traffic and in the background radios blast the latest hit song from Cairo blending with the call of PARKING PROBLEMS and modern apartment and office buildings came simultaneously within two decades when the taking over of settled areas. Except for the flowing robes of pedestrians and store signs in Arabic and English, this Riyadh scene is a duplicate of any busy U.S. street.

MOSQUE TOWER, at right, with its classic arabesque designs executed in plaster, dominates a side street in Jiddah, a seaport of 250,000 population on the Red Sea.

Illinois State Police have resumed carrying tape-recorded telephone messages of road conditions throughout Illinois.

They are updated four times a day for all primary and secondary roads in 12 of the state's 16 police districts.

The 12 districts update their reports on tape-recorded telephone messages at 5 a.m., 11 a.m., 5 p.m. and 8 p.m.

MOTORIST HURT

An accident during the weekend at Nantuxi Road and Madison Avenue resulted in minor injuries to the driver of one vehicle, Robert E. Young, Arlington Heights. Operating the second auto was Creola Warnhoff, 2717 Madison Ave.

Winter hints for drivers

Any auto owner who drives his car until the muffler falls off before doing something about it should admit his neglect and make earlier repairs, according to Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer.

"When car windows are rolled up in winter, exhaust fumes that can seep into the passenger compartment can be deadly. A pre-winter safety-check of your car is incomplete without a thorough inspection of your car's exhaust system," Veizer warned.

Detection and replacement of leaky mufflers and exhaust pipes are not the least of a driver's responsibilities to himself and his passengers, according to the chief. There are other items that need winter-ready attention as recommended by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Veizer said these include:

Check your antifreeze; change to a winter-grade oil, unless you already use a multi-viscosity type.

Get an engine tune-up including an inspection of the entire electrical system to assure easier starting and prevent stalling in traffic.

Replace the battery if there is any hint that the old one could give out at an embarrassing moment necessitating towing or pushing. Replace treadless tires, or better yet, equip your car with snow tires for added confidence and performance on snow-covered streets.

Have reinforced tire chains on hand to make sure you can go in serious snow and ice conditions. Be sure your car won't be the one that stops and blocks traffic.

Have windshield wipers inspected for both wiper blade conditions and adequate wiper arm pressure. Fill the windshield washer reservoir with adequate antifreeze solution. Winter slush and road grime must not blur your vision.

Be sure your heater and defroster system is checked for peak performance.

Have brakes inspected to be sure they are working properly. Uneven or grabbing brakes can throw you into a dangerous slide.

Chief Veizer warned that winter traffic throughout the

$50,000 RR suit

Terry D. Bloss has filed a suit in Madison County Circuit Court seeking $50,000 damages from The Norfolk and Western Railway Co.

Bloss alleges that on May 29, 1974, he was employed as a carman and was injured while working on a derailed railroad car in Granite City. The complaint alleges that the car was being lifted onto the tracks and was dropped, pinning him between a center sill and a truck wheel of the railroad car. He charges negligence.

city is like a chain that is no stronger than its weakest link. The breakdown of a single vehicle at a crucial point can seriously delay and obstruct vital traffic especially when police and emergency drivers are contending with the results of a winter storm.

Wintering a vehicle involves only minor expenses and a temporary inconvenience now. According to the chief, it is the best possible insurance against a big inconvenience later—possibly even a big repair bill before winter is over.

GC Jr. Service Fashion Show

The Granite City Junior Service Club will host its annual Fashion Show on Nov. 21, featuring furs by Mr. Spiro of St. Louis and an exclusive jewelry display by Hudson's Jewelry Store.

Mrs. Louise Wade, publicity chairman, announced the show will be held at the Holiday Inn on Route 159, Collinsville, and will begin at 7 p.m. Arrangements are being completed for refreshments and entertainment during the show and a variety of prizes, Mrs.

Charlene Pohlman, chairman of the project reports.

Tickets costing $3 may be obtained at the door on the evening of the show or in advance from any club member.

Proceeds from the annual project will be used to further charity programs in the community, including nurses' scholarships and delivering both Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to the needy families. The club also provides eye examination for school children and will purchase eye glasses if needed.

Ecology program at St. Peter's

Connie Cornelison, Louise Favier and Kay Cornelison presented a devotional on ecology, entitled "We-Keepers of the Earth," at a meeting last week of the Afternoon Women's Guild of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

Many interesting items relating to the ecology theme were displayed during the talk. A memorial service was led by Mrs. Estella Monken for deceased members, and Mrs. Edna Ruhe was in charge of the gathering of thank offerings.

Mrs. Paulette Mueller conducted the business meeting and urged members to attend the church Weihnachtst on Dec. 5, starting at noon. Several members are participating in the "Friends in Learning" program sponsored by the Quad-City Church Women United, it was reported.

Forty were present at the meeting and were served a dessert by the hostesses. Fall flowers were used to decorate the tables.

Two honored at birthday party

Mrs. Mary Pranatis, 22314 Grand Ave., entertained at a birthday party this week honoring her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Pranatis of Belleville, and a son-in-law, Walter Waligorski.

A spaghetti supper was served the guests by the hostess, followed with birthday cake and ice cream. A social evening was enjoyed.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Al (Ruth) Pranatis of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Janet) Waligorski, John Winkmeier, Paul Mikolaszuk, Alvin and Hope Winkmeier, and Robert Theis and children, Katie, Kim, Judy, Mary and Mark.

Convention is chapter topic

A discussion of the national convention of Phi Tau Omega Sorority to be held in June at the Marriott Hotel, St. Louis, was held at a meeting of Eta Chapter last week at the Elks Club.

Mrs. Jo Ervay, chairman of the local chapter's pre-convention party, advised the group the theme of the convention will be "50 Golden Years with Phi Tau Omega."

Miss Betty Krug, president, was in charge of the meeting, attended by 14 members.

Reports were given by Mrs. Mary Evalyne Yenko, chairman of a rummage sale held by the group in October, and by Miss Hilda Schroeder, on the candy sale now in progress. Named to serve as the November social committee were Evelyn Allen, Millie Greathouse, Lois Hodge and Mary Hassler.

Prices for the evening were won by Miss Krug and Mrs. Shirley Morgan.

AUTOMOBILE IS STOLEN
The 1974 blue two-door Ford of Kevin Kietly, 3945g Village Lane, was stolen from the Village Lane parking lot, it was reported at 10:10 a.m. Sunday.

The airman is a 1973 graduate of Assumption High School, East St. Louis. His mother, Mrs. Mildred M. Votoupal, resides at 2827 Pershing, Granite City.

During the first competition the local baton student won six trophies in various categories and her 7-year-old sister, Sandra Norris, captured six trophies.

At the last contest, Laurie won four trophies and Sandra took three high awards.

MARY ANN WILLIAMS, 2686 Iowa St., has received an Outstanding Performance Rating from the Readiness Validation Division of the Automated Logistics Management Systems Agency (ALMSA), St. Louis.

Sisters compete in baton contests

Laurie Norris, 4-year-old Granite City youngster, captured the title of Miss Twirl-A-Thon at the 15th annual Miss Twirl-A-Thon pageant in Michigan City, Ind.

She also took the top award in the Third Annual Autumn Queen contest held in Sheridan, Ind.

Homemakers host workshop

Christmas wall hangings, slippers and holiday lanterns were among the items created at a craft day at Grace Baptist Church for members of the Granite City Unit, Madison County Homemakers Extension Association.

Mrs. Lori Hintz was in charge of the workshop and instructed the members.

Mrs. Rosella Johannmeier will contact the members on information for the unit yuletide party set for Dec. 4 at the Grand Cafe. Reservation money is to be forwarded to her or Mrs.

Lucille Sobczak no later than Nov. 27.

The two co-chairmen also will collect the money at a district meeting on Tuesday at the Nameoki Recreation Center.

Those who wish to mail their reservations may do so by sending it to Mrs. Johannmeier, Rural Route One, Box 1430, Granite City, or Mrs. Sobczak, 4220 Highway 162, Mrs. Hintz announced.

Mother's Club donates funds

The Lincoln Place Mother's Club voted donations to the Salvation Army and Parents for Special Education for use in Christmas programs at meeting last week.

Members met at the Lincoln Place Community Center. Also discussed were plans for Christmas party for members and their children on Dec. 4 at the home of Mrs. Irene Kuzma, 1965 Maple St.

Hostesses Mrs. Linda Garcia and Mrs. Mary Driscoll directed the games during the social hour and served refreshments.

Prizes were awarded to Mesdames Ann Vallow, Mary St. Ivany, Irene Kuzma, Nancy Groff, Mary Driscoll and Anna Krus.

Also present were Mesdames Mary Andria, Rose Graham, Virginia Kittle, Dorothy Petrillo and Josephine Bangel.
